Second Demand In 9 Days

U.N. Again Asks Removal Of Belgian Units In Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N. Security Council early today made its second demand in nine days that Belgian troops get out of the Congo and give way to the new U. N. military force. The Soviet Union dropped an attempt to set a three-day deadline for the pullout.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov joined in a unanimous vote for a Ceylonese-Tunisian resolution that called on Belgium to withdraw its forces speedily from the new African republic.

The resolution backed up the Council resolution of July 14 sending the U. N. force to the chaotic central African nation and calling for the Belgian withdrawal.

The new resolution also asked U. N. members not to "undermine the territorial integrity" of the Congo, whose rich Katanga Province has declared its secession—with Belgian connivance, the Congolese government and the Russians charge.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny repeated his government's earlier assurance that the Belgian troops would be withdrawn "as soon as the United Nations can ensure order and safety." He pointed out that a phased withdrawal from Leopoldville, the Congo capital, had started.

Wigny said the unity of the Congo was consecrated by Belgian law and that Belgium, since setting the Congo free July 1, had not intervened in its former territory's internal affairs beyond providing technical assistance.

"It is for the Congolese to decide their own fate," he declared.

Government circles in Brussels indicated the Belgian government still planned to pull the troops back to Belgium's two military bases in the Congo — Kitona and Kamina—and not pull them out of the country. These sources said the resolution did not call for total withdrawal from the Congo and pointed out it did not mention the bases, which Belgium retained under a friendship and assistance treaty she signed with the new Congo government when independence was granted.

In the debate before the Council vote, Soviet deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge that his government would not be bullied into backing down on Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promise to give the Congo any help necessary to stop what Moscow terms aggression.

Lodge in reply repeated his earlier statement to the Council that the United States would do whatever it must to bar any troops from the Congo that the U. N. had not asked in.

"That statement still stands," he warned.

Worst In 30 Years

Western States Ask Help As Forest Fires Rage On

U.S. Counters Reds' Bluffing In New Policy

Herter Hits Soviet Stand As Defender Of African Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has embarked on a policy of calling the Soviet Union's bluff each time it believes Kremlin leaders are threatening action they never will dare carry out.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter disclosed that tough new line Thursday in blasting Soviet threats to send troops to the violence-racked Congo.

Abandoning his usual diplomatic caution, Herter bluntly assailed as a reckless bluff Moscow's widely advertised claims that it wants to help stamp out what it calls Western imperialism in the new African republic.

Herter pledged that the United States will press ahead with all-out moral and material support for United Nations efforts to end the violence, regardless of Soviet threats.

Responsible diplomatic authorities said today more firm rejoinders of this kind can be expected from administration leaders in handling Moscow's virtually unprecedented campaign of threats, protests, insults and propaganda.

This reflects a high-level administration belief that the Soviet threats represent more phony bluster than menace. It is believed that in all of Moscow's output so far, threats have been carefully hedged to sound frightening without committing the Soviet Union to action.

The call-the-bluff policy will carry one step farther the administration's determination to fire back tough and fast at Moscow's anti-American propaganda thrusts.

Administration leaders are reported convinced that stern language, backed up by a readiness to act to protect vital interests, offers the best hope of compelling the Kremlin to call off its campaign.

Risks are involved in any such strategy, they acknowledged. But they said there is no alternative. They said mildly worded answers or hesitation may be viewed by the Kremlin as signs of weakness and confusion in a United States seemingly preoccupied with an election campaign.

Top officials are under instruction to be firm but to avoid unnecessary bluster and overly beligerent rejoinders. While slugging it out in the propaganda arena, the administration intends to keep the door ajar for a renewal of businesslike East-West negotiations to ease outstanding international disputes.

In talking to newsmen Thursday Herter attacked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's remarks about the Congo. Herter said that while the rest of the United Nations is seeking to calm the disorders, Khrushchev is deliberately instigating new violence by his "reckless, irresponsible threats."

FDR's Son Says He'll Support Nixon's Drive

CINCINNATI (AP)—One son of the late Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt says frankly he's going to support the Republican party this year.

John A. Roosevelt, now a New York investment banker, said Thursday night: "I'm convinced Vice President Nixon has the best training and the greatest ability of anyone in this country for the job as president."

Sen. Kennedy And Harriman Talk Strategy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy and Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow, meet today to discuss foreign policy and strategy in the senator's presidential campaign.

As a diplomat, Harriman was among the first Americans after World War II to foresee some of the troubles that lay ahead in relations with the Soviet Union. He has been a student of foreign policy problems.

As a practical politician — he is a former governor of New York — Harriman presumably also will talk a lot of politics with the Democratic presidential nominee. Kennedy is concerned deeply about factional fights among New York Democrats.

But Kennedy told newsmen Wednesday the talks with Harriman would be mostly about foreign policy.

The senator will receive Saturday from Allen W. Dulles, Central Intelligence Agency director, the first of the secret foreign policy briefings President Eisenhower has authorized for the Republican and Democratic campaign-bearers.

Harriman and two other Kennedy advisers will fly in during the day. Pierre Salinger, the senator's press secretary, said Archibald Cox, Harvard Law School faculty member, and Theodore G. Sorsensen, a Washington aide to Kennedy, were coming in to "go over a whole wide gamut" of problems.

• This means more rounds of conferences for Kennedy on a work-and-rest vacation at his summer home.

Kennedy has been paying deep attention to foreign policy, which will be a major issue in the campaign. Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic nominee, is due a week from today for talks on these problems.

Dragging Work Begins After Angler Vanishes

STEUBENVILLE — Dragging operations started this morning in the Ohio River after a young Steubenville man who went fishing Thursday turned up missing and police later found part of his gear and a cap floating in the water.

James F. Grubbs, 25, was reported missing at 4:15 by his father, James L. Grubbs. He had left home about 10 in the morning to fish along the river bank in the vicinity of Adams St.

After the Coast Guard was notified of the man's presumed drowning, authorities searched the river bank and found his fishing tackle, a tackle box and other gear. Police said the man's checkered cap was found washed along the shore line.

The Coast Guard began dragging the river at 6 this morning. The missing man's father is James L. Grubbs.

Whites, Negroes Fight In Lunchroom Melees

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Whites and Negroes threw punches Thursday in a melee that followed lunch counter demonstrations in two downtown Greenville stores.

Three white youths were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct, and released under $30 bonds.

They were identified as Bobby Sims and Dean Willis, both 17, and Dennis Nevis, 26.

Nevis also was charged with carrying an illegal weapon, a knife, and posted an additional $30 bond.

Have No Need Of Reds Now, Premier Says

Lumumba Expresses His Thanks To U.N. Before Trip To U.S.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba expressed thanks to the United Nations today for its quick action in the Congo and said there is no longer any need for Soviet military aid.

He spoke at a news conference shortly before his scheduled departure for conferences at the United Nations in New York. He was commenting specifically on adoption of a Security Council resolution urging Belgium to speed up withdrawal of its soldiers from the Congo.

Lumumba for days has been insisting that unless Belgians quit the country he would ask that Soviet soldiers be sent in.

Today, in an abrupt change from his mood of recent days, the Premier offered a hand of friendship to Belgium, asserting it was the Belgians who built this country.

At the same time, he demanded immediate withdrawal of Belgian Ambassador Jean van den Bosch, saying his actions and reports had resulted in the sending of Belgian soldiers into the country.

In renouncing action by the Soviet Union, Lumumba said he was motivated by the fact the Security Council resolution is being carried out effectively and particularly by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's refusal to recognize the province of Katanga as a separate state.

Lumumba said he is very happy about the way the situation in the Congo is being stabilized.

He insisted, however, that Belgian soldiers must return to Belgium and their Congo bases, at Kamina and Kitona, must be evacuated.

Sending in Belgian soldiers, he said, was "a flagrant violation" of the Congo's treaty of friendship with Belgium.

But, he added, "We consider the Belgians as our friends."

Lumumba said he will make the trip to New York in a plane furnished by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

Crowd Waited Tonight To See Newell Parade

A crowd is expected to attend a parade of 40 units tonight at 7:30 in Newell as a week-long benefit carnival of the volunteer fire department draws to a close.

Scheduled to appear are four drum and bugle corps, the Wells High School Band, the championship drill squad of Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 and Cub Scouts of Newell.

Drum and bugle corps are expected from Rochester, Newell, Oakdale Boys Industrial Home near Pittsburgh, and Imperial. Cash prizes will be awarded. The parade will move along Washington St. to the carnival grounds at Clark Field.

Motorcyclist Injured In Collision With Auto

A city motorcyclist was admitted to City Hospital this morning with injuries suffered in a collision with an auto at Minnesota and Pennsylvania Ave.

William Pearson, 429 Elm St., was hospitalized after the crash with an auto reportedly driven by Willis Peachy, 1638 Alpha St. Police still are investigating the accident, which was timed at 9:35.

Reds To Rip U.S. Again On 'Spying'

Lodge Instructed To Slap Back Hard During U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union goes before the U. N. Security Council today with another slashing attack on the United States, charging deliberate violation of Soviet borders by American spy planes.

The attack was expected to touch off a major cold war clash with the United States, which will reply Monday.

President Eisenhower instructed U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge to hit back hard in accordance with Washington's tough new line toward Soviet threats and accusations.

One of the Kremlin's top diplomats, Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, was to deliver a detailed, all-afternoon speech which Soviet sources said would conclude with a demand for condemnation of the United States as an aggressor.

The Soviet complaint to the Council was titled "New aggressive acts by the Air Force of the United States against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace."

The complaint grew out of the shooting down of a U. S. RB47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea by a Soviet jet fighter July 1. The Soviet Union charged that the aircraft was over Soviet waters on an espionage mission.

The Russians are holding two of the plane's six crewmen and are expected to try them as spies. The Russians recovered the body of the plane's pilot, and the other three crewmen are missing.

The United States claims the plane was surveying magnetic lines of force in arctic waters for mapping and was shot down over international waters. The State Department said it was never closer than 30 miles to the Soviet shores.

Cost Of Living Records New Monthly High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living climbed one-fifth of one per cent in June to its fourth consecutive high, the Labor Department reported today.

Food prices—Mainly fresh fruits and pork—contributed virtually all the rise, the department said, but gasoline prices helped provide an upward shove.

The consumer price index reached a level of 126.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was two points higher than a year ago and, in percentage terms, represented a drop in the buying power of the dollar of more than 1½ cents in the past 12 months.

Some 600,000 workers will receive wage boosts under escalator wage contracts which compensate for climbing living costs.

$465,000 Bond Issue Asked At Columbiana

With the filing of a new bond issue and requests for renewal of three levies, the number of special questions and issues at the Nov. 8 election has risen to 24, the County Election Board said today.

The total of 24 includes those already filed or anticipated for the general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

The Columbiana Exempted Village Board of Education filed a $465,000 bond issue for construction of a new elementary school and additions and remodeling of present buildings.

Franklin Township has asked renewal of a 2-mill road improvement tax for two years. Renewal of two 1-mill operating levies also has been certified by East Palestine Council. Both for two years, one is a 1-mill tax for street maintenance and the other is for City Park maintenance.

GOP To Start Drafting 1960 Party Planks

Platform Group Set To Tackle Writing Issues At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans buckle down today to the job of putting on paper a platform they hope will contribute to a party victory in November.

Leaders predicted the document will have little "me-tooism" — a tag given some past GOP platforms by critics who contended the Republicans aped the Democrats in social welfare promises.

Certainly the platform will differ dramatically from that adopted by Democrats at Los Angeles last week if it reflects the predominant tone of those who made recommendations this week.

The platform will go to the convention Wednesday for adoption.

Most of the 200-odd persons who testified before the 103-member Platform Committee during the last three days called for a halt to injecting the federal government into the economic and social welfare life of the nation.

The Democratic platform, on the other hand, pledged to expand federal activities in these fields.

In writing the platform, the GOP drafters will give much weight to the wishes of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the party's all-but-certain presidential nominee. Nixon has been keeping in close touch with leaders of the Platform Committee.

There is one area in which the Republicans may find themselves called upon to broaden federal activity. That is the controversial issue of racial discrimination in voting, education, housing and other spheres of human relations.

Civil rights advocates urged the Republicans to come up with as bold a civil rights plank as the Democrats. The latter promised to widen federal authority to intervene in the courts to help end racial discrimination in many fields. The plank evoked bitter opposition of Southern delegates.

Here, as at the Democratic convention, Dixie delegates pleaded for moderation. But there was no threat of a walkout by Southerners. Instead there was a promise that a modest plank would encourage many Southern Democrats to shift to the GOP.

Blooming Mill Started Again At Ceremony

Joel H. Hunter, president of the Crucible Steel Co. of America, snipped a ribbon today in a ceremony that marked completion of a $4½ million dollar project for electrification of the blooming mill of the Midland Works and the resumption of operations.

The power system of the mill, driven by two 5,000-horsepower motors, represents a major improvement both because of its greater efficiency and reliability and because it will make possible "a major improvement in working conditions," company officials said.

The new system will provide increased power, faster reversals and better acceleration. It will help raise the capacity of the mill to meet customers' needs during peak periods of demand and also will make the mill more suitable for rolling difficult-to-work grades of steel, the company said.

The steam-driven mill required the operator to struggle with the throttle, but the new mill will be operated by fingertip control from an air conditioned control room, the company said. Its smooth, relatively silent operation will be substituted for the noisy clanging of its predecessor.

Elimination of steam will reduce the amount of smoke in the area, Crucible said. It is another step in a pattern which has made Crucible the largest facility in Crucible's diversified operations.

In addition to major projects completed in 1957 and 1958, new facilities such as a new $25 million strip mill and a unique vacuum unit are under construction at Midland.

Cuba Seizes 3 Mills Of U.S. Sugar Company

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government announced officially today it has seized three mills belonging to the Cuban American Sugar Mill Co.

An intervention order signed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro said the action was taken "for the protection of workers and the national industry."

The decree accused the American company of failing to liquidate its obligations to suppliers "leaving thousands of Cuban cane growers in a state of ruin."

Experts estimate the mills — two in Cuba's eastern Oriente province and one near Havana—have a total value, including adjoining land, of nearly 75 million dollars.

Ike To Press New Talks On Disarmament

Asks Early Meeting Of U.N. Nations To Reduce Risk Of War

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for resumption of disarmament talks to reduce war risk was reported today to be part of U.S. strategy aimed at putting the Soviet Union on the defensive.

The President announced Thursday night that the United States wants an early meeting of representatives of all 82 United Nations countries for urgent discussion of a way out of the arms race.

In a statement issued at the summer White House, Eisenhower said he had instructed Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. delegation to the U.N., to petition today for speedy revival of disarmament negotiations. Lodge arranged to do so.

In sounding his call for new talks by all U.N. members, Eisenhower recalled the Soviet delegates had walked out of the 10-nation disarmament negotiations at Geneva last month. At the time the United States was about to outline new proposals.

"Our efforts to get the Soviet Union to return to the conference table through normal diplomatic channels have not met with success," Eisenhower said.

"The need for disarmament in the present world situation is too important to set aside at the present time when deliberate efforts are being made to increase tensions."

That was an obvious allusion to the many-sided anti-American campaign the Soviet Union has been carrying on since Premier Nikita Khrushchev wrecked the Paris summit conference last May.

Eisenhower went on to say that under its charter the United Nations has primary responsibility in the disarmament field.

Then he announced that he had instructed Lodge to seek "an early meeting of the Disarmament Commission of the United Nations so that we and other members of the international community can continue to search for ways and means to achieve the universal desire to reduce the risk of war by controlled steps of disarmament." Such a meeting of the 82-nation membership requires a majority vote, at least 42 votes.

After the President's call Thursday night, U.N. diplomats expressed belief that the U.S. request for an early meeting would be approved.

Many Homes Are Leveled In 9 Regions

Urgent Appeals For Help Are Issued As Flames Take Toll

By The Associated Press

From British Columbia to Mexico, from the Pacific to the Rockies, hundreds of fires destroyed forests, watersheds, and homes today.

Interior Department officials called the roaring conflagrations the worst in the West in 30 years. They were the worst ever in many areas.

As exhausted men battled the flames in nine states and a Canadian province, urgent calls for help were issued. Response came from as far east as Pennsylvania.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho declared an extreme emergency existed in his state and asked President Eisenhower to recognize Idaho as a major disaster area.

Regional Forester Floyd Iverson of Ogden, Utah, said, "We think there is a possibility of arson in the Idaho fires and we are investigating." Iverson said the FBI is helping.

Enormous Los Angeles County —the country's largest — declared itself a disaster area, calling the fire outbreak its worst in history.

Flames roared on through other wooded areas of California and Oregon, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Arizona and British Columbia.

With millions of dollars of damage already estimated, the appalling news from most areas was that the fire intensity was increasing steadily.

In Idaho's Boise National Forest, Supervisor Howard Ahlskog estimated the toll may reach 20,000 acres. Hot, dry, windy weather was forecast today, and 900 men launched an all-out effort to control one of the state's two biggest fires, about 30 miles east of Boise.

A 3,000-acre fire in western Idaho's Payette National Forest, out of control since Tuesday, raged on unchecked.

The best news from the vicinity came from the Idaho-Oregon border where an enormous blaze was reported controlled late Thursday night after devastating some 30,000 acres of range land.

A 4,000-acre fire on Rattlesnake Mountain crackled to within a mile of Shoshone National Forest's great timber stands west of Cody, Wyo. Supervisor Ed Pierson of the Bureau of Land Management said at the scene, "Conditions couldn't be worse."

Efforts were hampered by tourists who clogged roads.

In Montana's Bitter Root National Forest a fire licked hungrily on through Lost Trail Pass after consuming more than 1,000 acres near Missoula. Other blazes roared unchecked at Gold Creek and in the central plateau of Yellowstone National Park.

Smoke billowed dense and black over 110,000 acres of California's forest and grasslands from the Los Angeles area to the Oregon line.

Freak winds in the Sunland-Tujunga area drove flames across the parched valley between the Verduga and San Gabriel Mountain ranges, destroying many homes.

Hundreds of residents grabbed pets and a few possessions and fled. Evacuees were housed in makeshift dormitories.

The toll of 61,000 blackened southern California acres was the worst in the booming area's history.

Officials estimate more than 10 million dollars damage in the San Dimas sector of Angeles National Forest, where 20,000 acres

But Kennedy told newsmen Wednesday the talks with Harriman would be mostly about foreign policy.

The senator will receive Saturday from Allen W. Dulles, Central Intelligence Agency director, the first of the secret foreign policy briefings President Eisenhower has authorized for the Republican and Democratic campaign-bearers.

Harriman and two other Kennedy advisers will fly in during the day. Pierre Salinger, the senator's press secretary, said Archibald Cox, Harvard Law School faculty member, and Theodore G. Sorsensen, a Washington aide to Kennedy, were coming in to "go over a whole wide gamut" of problems.

• This means more rounds of conferences for Kennedy on a work-and-rest vacation at his summer home.

Kennedy has been paying deep attention to foreign policy, which will be a major issue in the campaign. Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic nominee, is due a week from today for talks on these problems.

Dragging Work Begins After Angler Vanishes

STEUBENVILLE — Dragging operations started this morning in the Ohio River after a young Steubenville man who went fishing Thursday turned up missing and police later found part of his gear and a cap floating in the water.

James F. Grubbs, 25, was reported missing at 4:15 by his father, James L. Grubbs. He had left home about 10 in the morning to fish along the river bank in the vicinity of Adams St.

After the Coast Guard was notified of the man's presumed drowning, authorities searched the river bank and found his fishing tackle, a tackle box and other gear. Police said the man's checkered cap was found washed along the shore line.

The Coast Guard began dragging the river at 6 this morning. The missing man's father is James L. Grubbs.

Whites, Negroes Fight In Lunchroom Melees

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Whites and Negroes threw punches Thursday in a melee that followed lunch counter demonstrations in two downtown Greenville stores.

Three white youths were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct, and released under $30 bonds.

They were identified as Bobby Sims and Dean Willis, both 17, and Dennis Nevis, 26.

Nevis also was charged with carrying an illegal weapon, a knife, and posted an additional $30 bond.

Have No Need Of Reds Now, Premier Says

Lumumba Expresses His Thanks To U.N. Before Trip To U.S.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba expressed thanks to the United Nations today for its quick action in the Congo and said there is no longer any need for Soviet military aid.

He spoke at a news conference shortly before his scheduled departure for conferences at the United Nations in New York. He was commenting specifically on adoption of a Security Council resolution urging Belgium to speed up withdrawal of its soldiers from the Congo.

Lumumba for days has been insisting that unless Belgians quit the country he would ask that Soviet soldiers be sent in.

Today, in an abrupt change from his mood of recent days, the Premier offered a hand of friendship to Belgium, asserting it was the Belgians who built this country.

At the same time, he demanded immediate withdrawal of Belgian Ambassador Jean van den Bosch, saying his actions and reports had resulted in the sending of Belgian soldiers into the country.

In renouncing action by the Soviet Union, Lumumba said he was motivated by the fact the Security Council resolution is being carried out effectively and particularly by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's refusal to recognize the province of Katanga as a separate state.

Lumumba said he is very happy about the way the situation in the Congo is being stabilized.

He insisted, however, that Belgian soldiers must return to Belgium and their Congo bases, at Kamina and Kitona, must be evacuated.

Sending in Belgian soldiers, he said, was "a flagrant violation" of the Congo's treaty of friendship with Belgium.

But, he added, "We consider the Belgians as our friends."

Lumumba said he will make the trip to New York in a plane furnished by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

Motorcyclist Injured In Collision With Auto

A city motorcyclist was admitted to City Hospital this morning with injuries suffered in a collision with an auto at Minnesota and Pennsylvania Ave.

William Pearson, 429 Elm St., was hospitalized after the crash with an auto reportedly driven by Willis Peachy, 1638 Alpha St. Police still are investigating the accident, which was timed at 9:35.

Cost Of Living Records New Monthly High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living climbed one-fifth of one per cent in June to its fourth consecutive high, the Labor Department reported today.

Food prices—Mainly fresh fruits and pork—contributed virtually all the rise, the department said, but gasoline prices helped provide an upward shove.

The consumer price index reached a level of 126.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was two points higher than a year ago and, in percentage terms, represented a drop in the buying power of the dollar of more than 1½ cents in the past 12 months.

Some 600,000 workers will receive wage boosts under escalator wage contracts which compensate for climbing living costs.

$465,000 Bond Issue Asked At Columbiana

With the filing of a new bond issue and requests for renewal of three levies, the number of special questions and issues at the Nov. 8 election has risen to 24, the County Election Board said today.

The total of 24 includes those already filed or anticipated for the general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

The Columbiana Exempted Village Board of Education filed a $465,000 bond issue for construction of a new elementary school and additions and remodeling of present buildings.

Franklin Township has asked renewal of a 2-mill road improvement tax for two years. Renewal of two 1-mill operating levies also has been certified by East Palestine Council. Both for two years, one is a 1-mill tax for street maintenance and the other is for City Park maintenance.

GOP To Start Drafting 1960 Party Planks

Platform Group Set To Tackle Writing Issues At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans buckle down today to the job of putting on paper a platform they hope will contribute to a party victory in November.

Leaders predicted the document will have little "me-tooism" — a tag given some past GOP platforms by critics who contended the Republicans aped the Democrats in social welfare promises.

Certainly the platform will differ dramatically from that adopted by Democrats at Los Angeles last week if it reflects the predominant tone of those who made recommendations this week.

The platform will go to the convention Wednesday for adoption.

Most of the 200-odd persons who testified before the 103-member Platform Committee during the last three days called for a halt to injecting the federal government into the economic and social welfare life of the nation.

The Democratic platform, on the other hand, pledged to expand federal activities in these fields.

In writing the platform, the GOP drafters will give much weight to the wishes of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the party's all-but-certain presidential nominee. Nixon has been keeping in close touch with leaders of the Platform Committee.

There is one area in which the Republicans may find themselves called upon to broaden federal activity. That is the controversial issue of racial discrimination in voting, education, housing and other spheres of human relations.

Civil rights advocates urged the Republicans to come up with as bold a civil rights plank as the Democrats. The latter promised to widen federal authority to intervene in the courts to help end racial discrimination in many fields. The plank evoked bitter opposition of Southern delegates.

Here, as at the Democratic convention, Dixie delegates pleaded for moderation. But there was no threat of a walkout by Southerners. Instead there was a promise that a modest plank would encourage many Southern Democrats to shift to the GOP.

Blooming Mill Started Again At Ceremony

Joel H. Hunter, president of the Crucible Steel Co. of America, snipped a ribbon today in a ceremony that marked completion of a $4½ million dollar project for electrification of the blooming mill of the Midland Works and the resumption of operations.

The power system of the mill, driven by two 5,000-horsepower motors, represents a major improvement both because of its greater efficiency and reliability and because it will make possible "a major improvement in working conditions," company officials said.

The new system will provide increased power, faster reversals and better acceleration. It will help raise the capacity of the mill to meet customers' needs during peak periods of demand and also will make the mill more suitable for rolling difficult-to-work grades of steel, the company said.

The steam-driven mill required the operator to struggle with the throttle, but the new mill will be operated by fingertip control from an air conditioned control room, the company said. Its smooth, relatively silent operation will be substituted for the noisy clanging of its predecessor.

Elimination of steam will reduce the amount of smoke in the area, Crucible said. It is another step in a pattern which has made Crucible the largest facility in Crucible's diversified operations.

In addition to major projects completed in 1957 and 1958, new facilities such as a new $25 million strip mill and a unique vacuum unit are under construction at Midland.

Cuba Seizes 3 Mills Of U.S. Sugar Company

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government announced officially today it has seized three mills belonging to the Cuban American Sugar Mill Co.

An intervention order signed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro said the action was taken "for the protection of workers and the national industry."

The decree accused the American company of failing to liquidate its obligations to suppliers "leaving thousands of Cuban cane growers in a state of ruin."

Experts estimate the mills — two in Cuba's eastern Oriente province and one near Havana—have a total value, including adjoining land, of nearly 75 million dollars.

Ike To Press New Talks On Disarmament

Asks Early Meeting Of U.N. Nations To Reduce Risk Of War

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for resumption of disarmament talks to reduce war risk was reported today to be part of U.S. strategy aimed at putting the Soviet Union on the defensive.

The President announced Thursday night that the United States wants an early meeting of representatives of all 82 United Nations countries for urgent discussion of a way out of the arms race.

In a statement issued at the summer White House, Eisenhower said he had instructed Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. delegation to the U.N., to petition today for speedy revival of disarmament negotiations. Lodge arranged to do so.

In sounding his call for new talks by all U.N. members, Eisenhower recalled the Soviet delegates had walked out of the 10-nation disarmament negotiations at Geneva last month. At the time the United States was about to outline new proposals.

"Our efforts to get the Soviet Union to return to the conference table through normal diplomatic channels have not met with success," Eisenhower said.

"The need for disarmament in the present world situation is too important to set aside at the present time when deliberate efforts are being made to increase tensions."

That was an obvious allusion to the many-sided anti-American campaign the Soviet Union has been carrying on since Premier Nikita Khrushchev wrecked the Paris summit conference last May.

Eisenhower went on to say that under its charter the United Nations has primary responsibility in the disarmament field.

Then he announced that he had instructed Lodge to seek "an early meeting of the Disarmament Commission of the United Nations so that we and other members of the international community can continue to search for ways and means to achieve the universal desire to reduce the risk of war by controlled steps of disarmament." Such a meeting of the 82-nation membership requires a majority vote, at least 42 votes.

After the President's call Thursday night, U.N. diplomats expressed belief that the U.S. request for an early meeting would be approved.

In Dissolution At Midland

$7,325 Remains In Fund; Attorney Seeks Claimants

Wednesday will be the deadline for about 500 members of the Employes' Relief & Beneficial Association, made up of present and former Crucible employes at Midland, to claim some $7,325.

Atty. William Coughlin of Beaver, who has a Midland office, said only present and former employes who are members of the association are entitled to $14.65 payments being given each in dissolution of the fund.

He said members gave money voluntarily to the association and not according to a plant check-off. He said he has received numerous calls from present and former workers who are not eligible, since they were not members.

Some 4,000 members at Crucible received checks May 27 and May 31 through the paymaster there. Atty. Coughlin is holding checks now for members which were mailed to last known addresses, but were returned.

Allowing several days for checks to get into the bank after Wednesday, Atty. Coughlin will check every draft issued and turn the case over to the Beaver County Courts about July 31 for a decision on disposition of the remaining money. The money may revert to the state treasury or the Beaver County prothonotary's office and then be claimed if a person can prove a right to a share.

Checks, good for only 60 days after issuance May 27, were made out for over 6,500 members of the association, which was formed in 1923 by employes. It lasted until 1950. The courts ruled last October that a suit in equity be started to determine who was eligible to receive funds.

Assets of some $94,000 were sold by Coughlin for about $99,000, with checks remaining for about $7,325.

The association became inactive after workers began getting pensions under the union.

Flasco Denies Knowledge Of Tax Proposal

The city Democratic party had no knowledge of a plan to place a proposed municipal income tax on the ballot at the Nov. 8 general election, James Flasco, city chairman, said today.

Flasco said he first learned of the proposal when it was announced Thursday by Thomas J. Doland, leader of the 20-member group, as he filed a copy of the proposed ordinance prescribing a rate of eighth-tenths of one per cent with City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate.

The city chairman said he contacted Don R. Gosney, county Democratic chairman, who also had not heard of the plan.

"The committee proposing the tax probably has investigated the city's financial difficulties and has seen fit to submit the proposition to a vote of the people in a democratic manner," Flasco said.

Tax proposals that were repealed by the people twice during the administration of former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence were credited with causing defeat of the mayor and all other Republican officials at the polls last November.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove some mildew stains from cloth?

A. After washing in the usual way, and while still damp, immerse the article in hydrogen peroxide, or in a solution of chlorinated lime. While the spot is damp, expose it to the sun's rays. If the material is colored, test a scrap piece to determine whether or not the dye will be effected.

Q. How can I make a thickening for soup?

A. Make the thickening by using tapioca. Boil the tapioca until clear, and then strain the liquid into the soup. The result will be clear soup.

Q. How can I dispel the dampness in a room?

A. Place blocks of camphor in all corners, and on the shelves of the closets, replacing them as they evaporate.

He says he's surprised some visitors haven't been locked up by mistake.

In Dissolution At Midland

$7,325 Remains In Fund; Attorney Seeks Claimants

Wednesday will be the deadline for about 500 members of the Employes' Relief & Beneficial Association, made up of present and former Crucible employes at Midland, to claim some $7,325.

Atty. William Coughlin of Beaver, who has a Midland office, said only present and former employes who are members of the association are entitled to $14.65 payments being given each in dissolution of the fund.

He said members gave money voluntarily to the association and not according to a plant check-off. He said he has received numerous calls from present and former workers who are not eligible, since they were not members.

Some 4,000 members at Crucible received checks May 27 and May 31 through the paymaster there. Atty. Coughlin is holding checks now for members which were mailed to last known addresses, but were returned.

Allowing several days for checks to get into the bank after Wednesday, Atty. Coughlin will check every draft issued and turn the case over to the Beaver County Courts about July 31 for a decision on disposition of the remaining money. The money may revert to the state treasury or the Beaver County prothonotary's office and then be claimed if a person can prove a right to a share.

Checks, good for only 60 days after issuance May 27, were made out for over 6,500 members of the association, which was formed in 1923 by employes. It lasted until 1950. The courts ruled last October that a suit in equity be started to determine who was eligible to receive funds.

Assets of some $94,000 were sold by Coughlin for about $99,000, with checks remaining for about $7,325.

The association became inactive after workers began getting pensions under the union.

Dogs Are Welcome At Colorado Hotel

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — A hotel owner, asked if he objected to guests bringing dogs with them, commented:

"In all the time I've been an innkeeper, I've never had to toss an intoxicated dog out on his ear. No dog has ever swiped one of my towels and they don't use them to shine their shoes with. They don't smoke in bed, either."

Flasco Denies Knowledge Of Tax Proposal

The city Democratic party had no knowledge of a plan to place a proposed municipal income tax on the ballot at the Nov. 8 general election, James Flasco, city chairman, said today.

Flasco said he first learned of the proposal when it was announced Thursday by Thomas J. Doland, leader of the 20-member group, as he filed a copy of the proposed ordinance prescribing a rate of eighth-tenths of one per cent with City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate.

The city chairman said he contacted Don R. Gosney, county Democratic chairman, who also had not heard of the plan.

"The committee proposing the tax probably has investigated the city's financial difficulties and has seen fit to submit the proposition to a vote of the people in a democratic manner," Flasco said.

Tax proposals that were repealed by the people twice during the administration of former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence were credited with causing defeat of the mayor and all other Republican officials at the polls last November.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove some mildew stains from cloth?

A. After washing in the usual way, and while still damp, immerse the article in hydrogen peroxide, or in a solution of chlorinated lime. While the spot is damp, expose it to the sun's rays. If the material is colored, test a scrap piece to determine whether or not the dye will be effected.

Q. How can I make a thickening for soup?

A. Make the thickening by using tapioca. Boil the tapioca until clear, and then strain the liquid into the soup. The result will be clear soup.

Q. How can I dispel the dampness in a room?

A. Place blocks of camphor in all corners, and on the shelves of the closets, replacing them as they evaporate.

Await The Facts Before A Decision

With a group of civic-minded residents as the spearhead, another effort has been launched to seek a solution to the city's financial dilemma.

The method proposed — a municipal income tax — is not new, but the approach to the problem is.

On two previous occasions the tax came into being after legislative action from within Council. Justified or not, each time there were loud protests over the manner in which the measure was imposed — loud to the point where it was repealed twice at the polls.

Under the initiative procedure now being pursued, the people themselves are the motivating force at the very beginning and will follow through with the final decision in November — assuming sufficient names are obtained for the petitions being circulated and a ballot place assured.

Should a vote become a reality, those who have gotten the ball rolling point out that a three-month educational campaign is planned to acquaint the public with the need for additional city income and to explain the program that would be undertaken.

Until such complete details of the tax are announced — collection plan, earmarking of funds, etc. — the sensible thing is to keep an open mind on the matter, regardless of previous feelings.

When the facts are laid on the line they should be studied carefully. Then will be the time for the individual voter to make up his or her mind on the basis of what is being offered. To reach a decision now would be a clear case of putting the cart before the horse.

There is no question that something must be done to pull East Liverpool out of the financial doldrums. The program about to be offered deserves every consideration. It could be the solution.

Encouraging News From Chester

The word from Chester is most encouraging as the result of Mayor Ray Collins "crackdown" order following Wednesday night's meeting of Council.

Nothing could be clearer than this statement from the mayor Thursday as a follow-up to the developments in Council: "Last night was a warning. Everything from now on will be strictly business. No punches will be pulled!"

His words, as he emphasized, were aimed at all tavern operators and two service organizations.

Joining in the new campaign to erase illegal operations in the community were a delegation of ministers and laymen who appeared before Council.

In view of the record — Hancock violations statistic-wise always rank near or over the top in the state — there was no question of the need for action. It's to the mayor's credit that he saw fit to launch the crackdown. As he is well aware, mere words won't do the trick, but constant and proper policing will. As he also is aware, the stiffer regulations will be quite unpopular in many quarters and the pressure on his office for relief can be expected to increase accordingly.

It is always so when those for law and order step on the toes of those on the other side of the fence.

By his stern action, Mayor Collins cannot help but have risen in stature in the eyes of the civic-minded people of Chester and its neighboring communities.

He and those who have indicated clearly that they are behind his program have set an example that the rest of Hancock County would do well to follow.

The Russians Have It Too

It seems unbelievable at first that designers could find a way to fire a long-range rocket from a submarine. But in going further into the account of the successful Polaris firings from the new atom-powered submarine George Washington, one learns the technique is the same as firing a torpedo.

The difference is that the torpedo tube is larger and mounted in a vertical plane, instead of a horizontal plane. The rocket is pushed out by a blast of compressed air. Its fuel is ignited after it is on its way. It is as though it had been fired from a tube mounted on the surface of the earth, a possibility that has intrigued many laymen who have watched movies of the Cape Canaveral firings when a rocket was having trouble getting off the pad.

Polaris missiles soon will be operational, meaning they are in the experimental stage now, though some three years ahead of schedule. When the Defense Department finally has Polaris missiles in submarines cruising hither and yon in the Seven Seas and Minutemen missiles in concealed tubes in the earth and mounted on railroad cars, everybody will breathe easier.

The big thing in rocket strategy is mobility. Everything that has been happening in connection with spy missions and hurry-up programs is aimed at getting rid of fixed missile bases, as far as the strategy for real war is concerned. The United States is catching up in a hurry, in case real war occurs.

Polaris is one of the most reassuring things that has been done in the name of national defense. If it comes up to its promise when it goes into the operational stage, it will give the United States missile mobility on the Seven Seas. If the Minuteman, the big solid-fuel rocket being readied for mobility on land, comes along soon, the mobility factor will be whipped.

And what is the only thing wrong with Polaris?

The American people have been told for several years that the Soviet Union had the capacity to launch missiles from submarines submerged off the two long coastlines of the United States.

The American people can guess by putting two and two together that their government has been trying to find out whether the Soviet Union, the other missile power, also has mobile missiles for land.

The only thing wrong with Polaris is that it sounds as if the United States had something original, when what it has done is to begin to start to catch up to a military capability the Soviet Union already possessed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The GOP convention is just ahead. A summer of two all-star ball games, two political circuses and two-a-day Moscow and Havana insult programs may force TV audience to ask for an armistice. The Republican hall has better acoustics and speeches can be heard. Is that good? The GOP plans to put on a better show than the Democrats and will strive to prove the party has more beautiful dolls. It may even produce a gavel with sex appeal.

The Democrats retain Frankie Sinatra as they got him on early Democratic ballot. How Republicans can meet this challenge is a problem, but it may get Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Stan the Man, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris. But it's possible the GOP convention may put less emphasis on Miss America winners as factors in the fight for world peace, 5 per cent annual economic growth and stronger foreign policy.

IF THE DEMOCRATIC nomination was in the bag, the Republican session seems to be in double layers of burlap. The Nixon nomination has been pre-packaged by adoption papers, inheritance documents and ski chains. Rockefeller is more dynamic, colorful and stirring, but script has been written and labeled, "Do Not Tamper."

Promising more things than the Democratic platform will be impossible, without pledges for fewer parking meters, baby sitters from federal bureaus and the return to nickel hotdogs. The TV audience is wondering if the GOP convention will do as much for the four frostless icebox, short skirt and odd hairdo as the Democratic session did. Betty Furness led the movement for stylish frocks in kitchens and a different costume for opening each refrigerator compartment, but whether the GOP will go that far is the question.

"JOSEPH KENNEDY, father of the Democratic nominee, left for his villa on the Riviera immediately after the convention." — News item. Didn't he hear Jack's call for pioneer spirit and frontier sacrifices?

An oil tanker hit a submerged object directly in front of the U.N. building. Maybe a huge pile of futile U.N. resolutions.

Modern conventions may use a roadroller, but it is a roadroller with whitewall tires and stream lines. July seems to be National Gavel Month.

The GOP convention will feature trampoline, a circus contraption from which people turn somersaults. Maybe the Republicans are coming out for peace through more acrobats. There will be a 21-gun salute for Ike. He may not have much hair but this will give him plenty of "bangs."

There are no nightclubs or bars in Russia, a news item says. (Ya mean all those threats and "I can lick any man in the house" stuff comes from people who are sober!)

Colorado hotel owner welcomes dogs, say, "I never knew one to steal a towel, smoke in bed or make off with hotel silver." This is a victory for the Society for Fair Treatment of Pooches, now barred from many hotels. We think dogs are more dependable than most humans for good behavior. (We once had a pooch which was found in the year with a hotel napkin-ring but it had mistaken it for a toy.) A political party could get votes if it would come out with a platform demanding that Fido get less disdain from hotel operators.

A horse in Nova Scotia, 30 years old, eats cigarettes, chews tobacco and likes beer. Better hide that animal or it will be asked to give a testimonial for TV commercial.

The President has signed a law to keep a nationwide list of dangerous auto drivers. It would save time, money and paper just to list the careful ones. A record will be kept of autoists who have never lost their licenses or been involved in fatal accidents.

Safety first campaigns, Drive Safely Days, etc., have been flops. The national list of the potential killers should be supplemented by a special license plate system with symbols warning others of the wild men and women. We favor plates with these initials in big letters:

MF — Driver is "Me-Firster," demanding priority at all crossroads and turns.

SG — Super Glarer. Gives dirty look to fellow he has hit or forced off the road and has never been known to concede a personal error at wheel.

VIP — Very Important Pig. Registers the Mister Big mood at all times at the wheel of the auto, thinks School Zone signs are for the birds and in all mishaps employs the "Do you know who I am?" defense.

GNB — Gives Nobody a Break. Will fight man, woman or child at any corner, anywhere, to save time getting to an unimportant goal on an errand of no significance.

Arabs Figure They Can't Win In U.S. Vote

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

No matter who wins the U.S. presidential election in November, the Arabs won't be happy.

Howls of protest and cries of "foul" already have come from the Arab ranks over the Middle East plank of the Democratic Party platform.

"It's completely in favor of Israel," roared a top official of the Arab League.

An official protest statement from the government of the United Arab Republic also has accused the Republican presidential favorite, Richard M. Nixon, of pandering to Zionism on the Suez Canal issue in his quest for Jewish votes.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. has prepared his corner of the Arab home front for what many observers foresee as a "correct but cool" future in Washington-Arab relations.

IN HIS LATEST major foreign policy delcaration, Nasser pointedly contrasted Moscow's "warm response" to the Arab hand of friendship as against a less-than-enthusiastic reaction from the United States.

This, he claimed, was due to the close ties between American policy and world Zionism.

Despite their blasts against the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the late Baghdad Pact (now the Central Treaty Organization), the Nasser-led Arab bloc has always grudgingly favored the Republicans over the Democrats.

The Arabs still link former President Harry Truman and the Democrats with the establishment of Israel. If pressed on the point, some Arabs admit they remember President Eisenhower's firm stand against the 1956 Anglo-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt and his insistence that Israel withdraw from the Gaza Strip.

The U.A.R. outburst against Nixon followed the vice president's publication of a letter sent to an American Jewish leader declaring that the United States must continue to press for free navigation of the Suez Canal for all nations, including Israel.

THE EGYPTIANS have blocked the canal to Israeli shipping and cargoes, claiming a state of war still exists between the Arabs and Israel and that Israeli use of the canal must await a final settlement of all pending issues including the fate of a million Arab refugees from Palestine.

One Cairo newspaper noted glumly that, so far, Nixon has indicated "no new line of thinking about the American approach to Middle East problems."

The biggest uproar developed over the Democratic Party platform which pledges the party to end boycotts and blockades and to work for "unrestricted use of the Suez Canal by all nations." The Arab boycott and blockade has been one of the most effective weapons against Israel.

One top Arab League spokesman charged that this plank could not have favored Israel any better if it had been written by Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion himself.

WITHOUT MENTION of the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Arab press has concentrated its fire on the whole Democratic Party.

One Cairo paper, the Egyptian Gazette, declared that the Democratic platform is virtual confirmation that a change in the U.S. administration will bring no change for the better in American relations with the Arab countries. The Gazette added:

"This platform also confirms President Nasser's viewpoint that America has not learned from events that those wishing to cooperate with the Arab world must understand that the Arab people are their own masters and free to decide their own destiny."

Russia Jumps The Line

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was like drawing a circle around a frog and telling him not to jump out of it. This is what the United States did with Russia. And it worked, too, until the frog jumped.

And that's what put America in its latest dilemma.

Back in 1947, when George F. Kennan was head of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined an American plan followed ever since. As he said, it meant "holding the line and hoping for the best."

The idea was to ring Russia—then infinitely weaker than the United States—with military bases and alliances to keep it from pushing or overrunning her neighbors.

At that time, 13 years ago, the Soviet Union had no hydrogen bomb, no missiles, and Red China didn't exist. The mainland was still being run by Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally. But Kennan was doing some wishful thinking:

1. That this containment policy — military encirclement — would not only keep the Russians behind their own frontiers but would put internal pressure on the Soviet government.

2. That the pressure might hasten Soviet collapse internally or at least force a change of direction or intent because, Kennan felt and wrote, Russia contained within itself the seeds of its own destruction.

Up till now the containment policy has kept the Russians from bulldozing their immediate neighbors. But, contrary to Kennan's hopes, instead of collapse the Soviet Union's internal development has been phenomenal.

Now, 13 years later, the Russians have the hydrogen bomb, missiles probably capable of hitting America, an industrial production second only to that of the United States, and a population apparently content and loyal.

Russian strength has increased so tremendously that only this week New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the balance of power has shifted to the Soviet Union. The Russians have been acting as if they believed that, too.

They still can't, without risking war, push directly against the American circle drawn around them. So they have done the obvious and next-best thing for them. They have leapfrogged out of the circle.

They have done it not only by the usual propaganda and intrigue but by promises of both economic and even military help to countries on the American side of the circle. This is the most glaring example: the economic deals with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and a warning to the United States to keep hands off. Thus the Russians, without resorting to war to smash the circle, have hopped over and are trying to set up shop in America's backyard.

This almost certainly is only the beginning of such efforts to penetrate, by one means or another, the Latin American world. And Russia's efforts to penetrate Africa will be even more barefaced.

The American government can hardly dissuade the Russians from encroaching in areas close to the United states by complaining this is our backyard.

The Russians can answer by pointing out that for years the United States has linked itself to the Soviets' next-door neighbors with economic and military help and even military alliances.

For example: If the Russians send troops into Africa at the request of the Congo government, they can remind the world that the United States sent troops into the Middle East at the request of the government of Lebanon.

There would be a difference, of course. There were no United Nations troops already in Lebanon to keep order as there are now in the Congo.

And the worst is yet to come. Mainland China, now in Red Chinese hands, in a few years with Soviet help, should be militarily strong enough to inflict the miseries on the American containment policy in the Far East.

Where does it all lead to? Some guesses can be made.

The United States will need new ideas in dealing with the Communist world. Kennan himself a couple of years ago was shifting around to the idea of a pullback in Europe.

Letter To Editor

While watching the Democratic national convention, I wrote down the following thoughts. I forgot about them until I read David Lawrence's column in the July 19 Review. My thoughts follow.

Amidst all the conscientious hard work and hard thought the people of the United States are doing toward eliminating racial prejudice, religious prejudice and economic injustice, they are allowing themselves to be cheated.

Every elective office in the United States is granted by its citizens through their own choice; everyone but the presidency.

Every possible objection against a presidential primary has been advanced by the practical politicians. The most forceful point in their argument is the cost. One can well imagine this was an argument against the election, primary and general, of U.S. senators when they were appointed.

The citizens of the United States do not fully use their voting rights, expecially in the primaries. Those voting rights, used or unused, are still the foundation of our representative democracy. Not to use them, or to thwart their use, in deciding which two Americans shall contest for America's highest honor is a real travesty against true democracy.

There is no point in enumerating the machinations of the national political convention delegates. They do not truly represent the people of their respective states. Legally, they can say they do represent the people, but the people do not recognize their claim.

Americans have always done the things that were never done before. The American people are capable of choosing their own candidates for president. Sen. Kennedy, if elected, will come closer to being a choice of the people than any presidential candidate has ever been.

The presidential preferential primaries have paved the way. "Popularity contests" the practical politicians may call them, but they point the way to the full participation by the people in the elective processes of our representative government.

Rockefeller's Choices

By David Lawrence

The Governor Faces A Crossroads In Politics

All over the country there's a deep curiosity as to what's behind the tactics of Governor Rockefeller of New York as the Republican National Convention approaches. Is he really trying to be drafted for the presidential nomination? Would he positively refuse the vice presidential nomination if drafted for it by the convention or if personally requested to accept it by both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon? What would be Mr. Rockefeller's reasons, under those circumstances, for declining to take second place on the Republican national ticket?

David Lawrence

The answers that some of the professional politicians in both parties give in their conversations are significant of the weakness of the convention system itself as a means of reflecting public sentiment.

There is, of course, little if any chance that Gov. Rockefeller actually will be "drafted" for either place on the ticket. The only nomination that's really open is for the vice presidency. The delegates at the Chicago convention next week will not do the picking to fill that spot. The selection will be made by the presidential nominee, Richard M. Nixon. This has been the custom and the practice.

BUT IF MR. NIXON were to decide to ask Gov. Rockefeller to run, he would doubtless do so only after a conference with President Eisenhower, so that it would be a joint request.

With what arguments would Gov. Rockefeller be confronted as he turned over in his mind such a request?

First, the governor would have to convince himself that his own chances of becoming president some day would not be adversely affected by his refusal. If both Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Nixon, as the top leaders of the Republican party at present, should ask him to run in order to help the party and he nevertheless declined to do so, he would have two strikes against him with the rank and file of the party workers in 1964 if Mr. Nixon is defeated in November.

Surely there would be another attempt by Mr. Nixon to run four years hence, as he's only 47 years old. The probabilities are that a declination this time by Mr. Rockefeller might even cause such feeling inside the Republican party in New York state as to impair his chances of being re-elected governor two years hence. If he's defeated for governor in 1962, his political future will be dim indeed.

But why should Mr. Rockefeller decline? It is understandable that, just as Lyndon Johnson kept on discouraging all talk of a vice presidential nomination while there was a chance of his getting first place on the Democratic ticket, so also the New York governor has to keep attention focused on the Republican presidential nomination until the balloting has actually been completed.

BUT WHEN THE TIME for decision arrives, will the New York governor really refuse? Political logic would seem to say that he cannot refuse. He speaks, for instance, of wanting to serve the nation and his party. He declared he is deeply concerned about public policies in a critical period in American history.

He has expressed himself recently in a forceful way on current issues and has said he is thinking only of the public welfare. Does anyone think a governor at Albany, N. Y., can influence federal policy better than a vice president who sits in the Cabinet in Washington, attends the meetings of the National Security Council, and is in a position every day to confer with leaders in Congress?

Then there is always the contingency that fate sometimes makes a vice president into a president overnight. Accidents do happen in these days of airplane flights in all kinds of weather. Would Nelson Rockefeller ever forgive himself if he turned down the vice presidency and someone else — perhaps former Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge — thereafter became the chief executive?

It could be that Mr. Rockefeller is absolutely convinced that, unless he runs at the top spot, the Republican party cannot possibly win in November and that the acceptance of second place would tie him too tightly to a defeated administration, whereas, if he is not on the ticket this year, he would have a free hand in 1964 to criticize and differ from the present administration's policies.

IF GOV. ROCKEFELLER is sure in his own mind that the Republicans will lose this time, he, of course, has every right to keep out of the contest. But politicians have long memories, and much will depend on how earnestly and effectively Mr. Rockefeller campaigns during the next three months for the Nixon ticket, as he has promised to do.

It remains, however, to be seen whether the governor will be forgiven if he declines to run for vice president in 1960, even though asked by the present President and Vice President. Maybe that's why Gov. Rockefeller is hoping he will not be asked next week.

Dog Days Dead Ahead

By Raymond Moley

A rusty reminder of a college course in astronomy, plus a bit of research, reveals that Roger Long, two centuries ago, calculated the coincidence of the rising of Sirius, the dog star, with the sun's appearance was, at that time, about July 30.

His calculations also indicated that in earlier centuries the dates were earlier, so the dread moment may now be as far along as Aug. 8. There are fearful connotations of what may happen in these dog days. Webster says it is a "period of malignant influences." Dogs are likely to go mad. A pall of hot, humid air hangs over us. And of all places to experience the truly "malignant influence" of the time, Washington, D.C., is most dreadful.

We can expect nothing but woeful things to happen when Congress meets for a "clean-up" period at that time. The people most likely to be cleaned up will be those who must meet the tax collectors later.

Our legislators, or a majority thereof, have no such fate to fear. The Harvest Moon is to come this year about the time the lawmakers finish "cleaning up," Sept. 5. The harvest is for a grim, solitary reaper, the President, to sign or veto. Later, on Oct. 4, there will be the Hunters' Moon, when the same legislators will be madly pursuing their quarry, the voters.

A NUMBER of important and expensive measures are left to the frenzied meeting of this encore session. Medical care for the needy aged, if attached to the social security tax, would torture social security out of its "insurance" nature and into a levy to pay a limitless sum for an indeterminate number of people.

Federal aid for school construction would change a principle as old as the nation; that states and communities should build their own schools.

There is also that old tax-eater, the pork-barrel rivers and harbors authorization. This is and always has been a catch-all for a multitude of local improvements. It is, fortunately, an authorization, not an appropriation, a "hunting license for an appropriation." But it represents fiscal irresponsibility.

Then there is the inflationary and discriminatory minimum wage bill.

THE ATMOSPHERE is full of fine sentiments of "national purpose," sacrifice, strength, and concern for the nation first. All the candidates are for these things, in print or vocally.

But they have already and will continue to lead their cohorts and supporters in Congress to loot the Treasury for money to appease minority groups, local demands, and indefensible handouts. The extra weeks of the Dog Days session will have more of that sort of voting, along with windy shouts for national security. But there can be no security if the credit of the United States is endangered.

President Eisenhower is our last hope. He can wield the veto power.

Await The Facts Before A Decision

With a group of civic-minded residents as the spearhead, another effort has been launched to seek a solution to the city's financial dilemma.

The method proposed — a municipal income tax — is not new, but the approach to the problem is.

On two previous occasions the tax came into being after legislative action from within Council. Justified or not, each time there were loud protests over the manner in which the measure was imposed — loud to the point where it was repealed twice at the polls.

Under the initiative procedure now being pursued, the people themselves are the motivating force at the very beginning and will follow through with the final decision in November — assuming sufficient names are obtained for the petitions being circulated and a ballot place assured.

Should a vote become a reality, those who have gotten the ball rolling point out that a three-month educational campaign is planned to acquaint the public with the need for additional city income and to explain the program that would be undertaken.

Until such complete details of the tax are announced — collection plan, earmarking of funds, etc. — the sensible thing is to keep an open mind on the matter, regardless of previous feelings.

When the facts are laid on the line they should be studied carefully. Then will be the time for the individual voter to make up his or her mind on the basis of what is being offered. To reach a decision now would be a clear case of putting the cart before the horse.

There is no question that something must be done to pull East Liverpool out of the financial doldrums. The program about to be offered deserves every consideration. It could be the solution.

Encouraging News From Chester

The word from Chester is most encouraging as the result of Mayor Ray Collins "crackdown" order following Wednesday night's meeting of Council.

Nothing could be clearer than this statement from the mayor Thursday as a follow-up to the developments in Council: "Last night was a warning. Everything from now on will be strictly business. No punches will be pulled!"

His words, as he emphasized, were aimed at all tavern operators and two service organizations.

Joining in the new campaign to erase illegal operations in the community were a delegation of ministers and laymen who appeared before Council.

In view of the record — Hancock violations statistic-wise always rank near or over the top in the state — there was no question of the need for action. It's to the mayor's credit that he saw fit to launch the crackdown. As he is well aware, mere words won't do the trick, but constant and proper policing will. As he also is aware, the stiffer regulations will be quite unpopular in many quarters and the pressure on his office for relief can be expected to increase accordingly.

It is always so when those for law and order step on the toes of those on the other side of the fence.

By his stern action, Mayor Collins cannot help but have risen in stature in the eyes of the civic-minded people of Chester and its neighboring communities.

He and those who have indicated clearly that they are behind his program have set an example that the rest of Hancock County would do well to follow.

The Russians Have It Too

It seems unbelievable at first that designers could find a way to fire a long-range rocket from a submarine. But in going further into the account of the successful Polaris firings from the new atom-powered submarine George Washington, one learns the technique is the same as firing a torpedo.

The difference is that the torpedo tube is larger and mounted in a vertical plane, instead of a horizontal plane. The rocket is pushed out by a blast of compressed air. Its fuel is ignited after it is on its way. It is as though it had been fired from a tube mounted on the surface of the earth, a possibility that has intrigued many laymen who have watched movies of the Cape Canaveral firings when a rocket was having trouble getting off the pad.

Polaris missiles soon will be operational, meaning they are in the experimental stage now, though some three years ahead of schedule. When the Defense Department finally has Polaris missiles in submarines cruising hither and yon in the Seven Seas and Minutemen missiles in concealed tubes in the earth and mounted on railroad cars, everybody will breathe easier.

The big thing in rocket strategy is mobility. Everything that has been happening in connection with spy missions and hurry-up programs is aimed at getting rid of fixed missile bases, as far as the strategy for real war is concerned. The United States is catching up in a hurry, in case real war occurs.

Polaris is one of the most reassuring things that has been done in the name of national defense. If it comes up to its promise when it goes into the operational stage, it will give the United States missile mobility on the Seven Seas. If the Minuteman, the big solid-fuel rocket being readied for mobility on land, comes along soon, the mobility factor will be whipped.

And what is the only thing wrong with Polaris?

The American people have been told for several years that the Soviet Union had the capacity to launch missiles from submarines submerged off the two long coastlines of the United States.

The American people can guess by putting two and two together that their government has been trying to find out whether the Soviet Union, the other missile power, also has mobile missiles for land.

The only thing wrong with Polaris is that it sounds as if the United States had something original, when what it has done is to begin to start to catch up to a military capability the Soviet Union already possessed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The GOP convention is just ahead. A summer of two all-star ball games, two political circuses and two-a-day Moscow and Havana insult programs may force TV audience to ask for an armistice. The Republican hall has better acoustics and speeches can be heard. Is that good? The GOP plans to put on a better show than the Democrats and will strive to prove the party has more beautiful dolls. It may even produce a gavel with sex appeal.

The Democrats retain Frankie Sinatra as they got him on early Democratic ballot. How Republicans can meet this challenge is a problem, but it may get Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Stan the Man, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris. But it's possible the GOP convention may put less emphasis on Miss America winners as factors in the fight for world peace, 5 per cent annual economic growth and stronger foreign policy.

IF THE DEMOCRATIC nomination was in the bag, the Republican session seems to be in double layers of burlap. The Nixon nomination has been pre-packaged by adoption papers, inheritance documents and ski chains. Rockefeller is more dynamic, colorful and stirring, but script has been written and labeled, "Do Not Tamper."

Promising more things than the Democratic platform will be impossible, without pledges for fewer parking meters, baby sitters from federal bureaus and the return to nickel hotdogs. The TV audience is wondering if the GOP convention will do as much for the four frostless icebox, short skirt and odd hairdo as the Democratic session did. Betty Furness led the movement for stylish frocks in kitchens and a different costume for opening each refrigerator compartment, but whether the GOP will go that far is the question.

"JOSEPH KENNEDY, father of the Democratic nominee, left for his villa on the Riviera immediately after the convention." — News item. Didn't he hear Jack's call for pioneer spirit and frontier sacrifices?

An oil tanker hit a submerged object directly in front of the U.N. building. Maybe a huge pile of futile U.N. resolutions.

Modern conventions may use a roadroller, but it is a roadroller with whitewall tires and stream lines. July seems to be National Gavel Month.

The GOP convention will feature trampoline, a circus contraption from which people turn somersaults. Maybe the Republicans are coming out for peace through more acrobats. There will be a 21-gun salute for Ike. He may not have much hair but this will give him plenty of "bangs."

There are no nightclubs or bars in Russia, a news item says. (Ya mean all those threats and "I can lick any man in the house" stuff comes from people who are sober!)

Colorado hotel owner welcomes dogs, say, "I never knew one to steal a towel, smoke in bed or make off with hotel silver." This is a victory for the Society for Fair Treatment of Pooches, now barred from many hotels. We think dogs are more dependable than most humans for good behavior. (We once had a pooch which was found in the year with a hotel napkin-ring but it had mistaken it for a toy.) A political party could get votes if it would come out with a platform demanding that Fido get less disdain from hotel operators.

A horse in Nova Scotia, 30 years old, eats cigarettes, chews tobacco and likes beer. Better hide that animal or it will be asked to give a testimonial for TV commercial.

The President has signed a law to keep a nationwide list of dangerous auto drivers. It would save time, money and paper just to list the careful ones. A record will be kept of autoists who have never lost their licenses or been involved in fatal accidents.

Safety first campaigns, Drive Safely Days, etc., have been flops. The national list of the potential killers should be supplemented by a special license plate system with symbols warning others of the wild men and women. We favor plates with these initials in big letters:

MF — Driver is "Me-Firster," demanding priority at all crossroads and turns.

SG — Super Glarer. Gives dirty look to fellow he has hit or forced off the road and has never been known to concede a personal error at wheel.

VIP — Very Important Pig. Registers the Mister Big mood at all times at the wheel of the auto, thinks School Zone signs are for the birds and in all mishaps employs the "Do you know who I am?" defense.

GNB — Gives Nobody a Break. Will fight man, woman or child at any corner, anywhere, to save time getting to an unimportant goal on an errand of no significance.

Arabs Figure They Can't Win In U.S. Vote

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

No matter who wins the U.S. presidential election in November, the Arabs won't be happy.

Howls of protest and cries of "foul" already have come from the Arab ranks over the Middle East plank of the Democratic Party platform.

"It's completely in favor of Israel," roared a top official of the Arab League.

An official protest statement from the government of the United Arab Republic also has accused the Republican presidential favorite, Richard M. Nixon, of pandering to Zionism on the Suez Canal issue in his quest for Jewish votes.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. has prepared his corner of the Arab home front for what many observers foresee as a "correct but cool" future in Washington-Arab relations.

IN HIS LATEST major foreign policy delcaration, Nasser pointedly contrasted Moscow's "warm response" to the Arab hand of friendship as against a less-than-enthusiastic reaction from the United States.

This, he claimed, was due to the close ties between American policy and world Zionism.

Despite their blasts against the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the late Baghdad Pact (now the Central Treaty Organization), the Nasser-led Arab bloc has always grudgingly favored the Republicans over the Democrats.

The Arabs still link former President Harry Truman and the Democrats with the establishment of Israel. If pressed on the point, some Arabs admit they remember President Eisenhower's firm stand against the 1956 Anglo-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt and his insistence that Israel withdraw from the Gaza Strip.

The U.A.R. outburst against Nixon followed the vice president's publication of a letter sent to an American Jewish leader declaring that the United States must continue to press for free navigation of the Suez Canal for all nations, including Israel.

THE EGYPTIANS have blocked the canal to Israeli shipping and cargoes, claiming a state of war still exists between the Arabs and Israel and that Israeli use of the canal must await a final settlement of all pending issues including the fate of a million Arab refugees from Palestine.

One Cairo newspaper noted glumly that, so far, Nixon has indicated "no new line of thinking about the American approach to Middle East problems."

The biggest uproar developed over the Democratic Party platform which pledges the party to end boycotts and blockades and to work for "unrestricted use of the Suez Canal by all nations." The Arab boycott and blockade has been one of the most effective weapons against Israel.

One top Arab League spokesman charged that this plank could not have favored Israel any better if it had been written by Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion himself.

WITHOUT MENTION of the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Arab press has concentrated its fire on the whole Democratic Party.

One Cairo paper, the Egyptian Gazette, declared that the Democratic platform is virtual confirmation that a change in the U.S. administration will bring no change for the better in American relations with the Arab countries. The Gazette added:

"This platform also confirms President Nasser's viewpoint that America has not learned from events that those wishing to cooperate with the Arab world must understand that the Arab people are their own masters and free to decide their own destiny."

Russia Jumps The Line

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was like drawing a circle around a frog and telling him not to jump out of it. This is what the United States did with Russia. And it worked, too, until the frog jumped.

And that's what put America in its latest dilemma.

Back in 1947, when George F. Kennan was head of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined an American plan followed ever since. As he said, it meant "holding the line and hoping for the best."

The idea was to ring Russia—then infinitely weaker than the United States—with military bases and alliances to keep it from pushing or overrunning her neighbors.

At that time, 13 years ago, the Soviet Union had no hydrogen bomb, no missiles, and Red China didn't exist. The mainland was still being run by Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally. But Kennan was doing some wishful thinking:

1. That this containment policy — military encirclement — would not only keep the Russians behind their own frontiers but would put internal pressure on the Soviet government.

2. That the pressure might hasten Soviet collapse internally or at least force a change of direction or intent because, Kennan felt and wrote, Russia contained within itself the seeds of its own destruction.

Up till now the containment policy has kept the Russians from bulldozing their immediate neighbors. But, contrary to Kennan's hopes, instead of collapse the Soviet Union's internal development has been phenomenal.

Now, 13 years later, the Russians have the hydrogen bomb, missiles probably capable of hitting America, an industrial production second only to that of the United States, and a population apparently content and loyal.

Russian strength has increased so tremendously that only this week New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the balance of power has shifted to the Soviet Union. The Russians have been acting as if they believed that, too.

They still can't, without risking war, push directly against the American circle drawn around them. So they have done the obvious and next-best thing for them. They have leapfrogged out of the circle.

They have done it not only by the usual propaganda and intrigue but by promises of both economic and even military help to countries on the American side of the circle. This is the most glaring example: the economic deals with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and a warning to the United States to keep hands off. Thus the Russians, without resorting to war to smash the circle, have hopped over and are trying to set up shop in America's backyard.

This almost certainly is only the beginning of such efforts to penetrate, by one means or another, the Latin American world. And Russia's efforts to penetrate Africa will be even more barefaced.

The American government can hardly dissuade the Russians from encroaching in areas close to the United states by complaining this is our backyard.

The Russians can answer by pointing out that for years the United States has linked itself to the Soviets' next-door neighbors with economic and military help and even military alliances.

For example: If the Russians send troops into Africa at the request of the Congo government, they can remind the world that the United States sent troops into the Middle East at the request of the government of Lebanon.

There would be a difference, of course. There were no United Nations troops already in Lebanon to keep order as there are now in the Congo.

And the worst is yet to come. Mainland China, now in Red Chinese hands, in a few years with Soviet help, should be militarily strong enough to inflict the miseries on the American containment policy in the Far East.

Where does it all lead to? Some guesses can be made.

The United States will need new ideas in dealing with the Communist world. Kennan himself a couple of years ago was shifting around to the idea of a pullback in Europe.

Letter To Editor

While watching the Democratic national convention, I wrote down the following thoughts. I forgot about them until I read David Lawrence's column in the July 19 Review. My thoughts follow.

Amidst all the conscientious hard work and hard thought the people of the United States are doing toward eliminating racial prejudice, religious prejudice and economic injustice, they are allowing themselves to be cheated.

Every elective office in the United States is granted by its citizens through their own choice; everyone but the presidency.

Every possible objection against a presidential primary has been advanced by the practical politicians. The most forceful point in their argument is the cost. One can well imagine this was an argument against the election, primary and general, of U.S. senators when they were appointed.

The citizens of the United States do not fully use their voting rights, expecially in the primaries. Those voting rights, used or unused, are still the foundation of our representative democracy. Not to use them, or to thwart their use, in deciding which two Americans shall contest for America's highest honor is a real travesty against true democracy.

There is no point in enumerating the machinations of the national political convention delegates. They do not truly represent the people of their respective states. Legally, they can say they do represent the people, but the people do not recognize their claim.

Americans have always done the things that were never done before. The American people are capable of choosing their own candidates for president. Sen. Kennedy, if elected, will come closer to being a choice of the people than any presidential candidate has ever been.

The presidential preferential primaries have paved the way. "Popularity contests" the practical politicians may call them, but they point the way to the full participation by the people in the elective processes of our representative government.

West Virginia Democrats To Fill Vacancy

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's Democratic State Executive Committee met here today to pick a nominee to fill the vacancy on the November election ballot created by the recent death of Edgar B. Sims, state auditor for 27 years.

One clear-cut choice — State Democratic Chairman Hulett C. Smith of Beckley — took his name out of the running earlier.

Smith polled 130,000 votes to run second to Atty. Gen. W. W. Barron in the party's three-man gubernatorial race in the May 10 primary.

Barron, the man expected to call the shots as the party's No. 1 state standard-bearer, left the door wide open.

"Everybody is receiving consideration, including L. J. Boley," Barron said yesterday. "We're open to persuasion. We'll pick the man we believe will best help the ticket."

Boley, former Nicholas County sheriff, lost in the primary to Sims. Sims, renominated for an eighth consecutive term, died June 20. His death left it up to the 67-man state committee to fill the auditor's vacancy on the ballot.

Those reported under consideration for the nomination included:

Former Insurance Commissioner Hugh Mills, former Budget Director Denzil Gainer, Asst. Atty. Gen. Curtis Trent, Herbert Marsh, veteran clerk of the Board of Public Works.

E. Van Dorsey of Beckley, House Speaker Harry R. Pauley of Iaeger, State Sen. Glenn Jackson of Logan, Charleston attorney Lee Kenna, and Col. J. Kemp McLaughlin, chief of staff of the late Agriculture Commissioner J. B. McLaughlin.

The party's choice will oppose ex-Logan Mayor Litz McGuire in the November election. The Republicans nominated McGuire for auditor in the primary. After Sims died, Gov. Underwood appointed McGuire to fill the unexpired term.

Story Hour Group Given Certificates At Wellsville Fete

Reading certificates were presented 80 children who participated in the summer book club and story hour group of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce at a party held Thursday afternoon in McDonald School, marking the close of the activity.

The certificates were presented by James Laughlin, Jaycee vice president. The organization plans to make the book club and story hour an annual project. The children who attended the party read a total of 10 books or more.

Miss Mary Clark, librarian of the Carnegie Public Library, urged children to continue use of the library facilities.

Entertainement was presented by Art Jennings of Glenside, Pa., known professionally as "Happy Dayze." His act included juggling, riding a unicycle and flash cartooning.

Refreshments were served by the wives of Jaycee members. Girls who aided Jaycees in the program this summer included Miss Sarah Couls, Miss Becky Lewis, Misses Judy and Carol Rose and Miss Ann Daugherty. About 160 attended the party.

2 Counties Will Share Price For New Bridge

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners agreed Thursday to turn over $7,850 to Mahoning County as a share in the cost of a new $32,000 bridge to be erected on the Sebring-Pine Lake Rd.

Mahoning County also will pay $7,850 toward the cost of the span, which will lie partly in each county, and the state will furnish the balance. In Columbiana County's records it is known as County Bridge 315. Mahoning calls it County Bridge 27. Mahoning County will handle details of the project.

In other business, the commissioners bought 91,000 tax receipts for the county treasurer's office from the Meek Stationery Co. at East Palestine on a low bid of $489.50. Five other bids were received.

The next meeting will be Monday at 9:30 a. m.

Jury alternates were selected Thursday and the prosecution announced it would go ahead with its opening statement. The 42-year-old surgeon and his 23-year-old sweetheart are accused of murdering his wife last July.

Their first trial ended in a hung jury.

Parents Can Prohibit TV Violence

Repeatedly in this column I have maintained that the broadcasting companies should take responsibility for presenting only programs on TV which are fit for young children as well as adults to hear. Broadcasting officials argue, in self-defense, that programs of violence, so popular with children even as young as two, three or four, can't hurt these children. Some officials even try to brainwash parents to believe that such programs are good for children by giving vent to their natural aggressive urges and they can hire some "experts" to say so for them.

By Garry Meyers

Some of these officials say that the violence some children have heard in stories they read or had read to them seems to have no ill effect. They can't be sure, of course. But when stories of violence are read, the young child is in his parent's arms or by her side, while he isn't when viewing gore and horror on TV.

—:—

BESIDES, THE number of young children to whom stories of violence are read is very small in comparison to the number who view programs of violence on TV.

Although few parents would read stories of gore and horror to their young children, their children usually are exposed to far more vivid violence on TV. How cheap human life must seem to the average child!

Occasionally broadcasting officials, admitting that certain TV programs are unfit for children, wash their hands of responsibility by saying the parent is responsible for what his child is allowed to view.

Because there seems to be little hope of getting these programs of violence off TV in the forseeable future, parents who really care about the moral welfare of their children will make sure they don't view such harmful programs.

It can be done if you train your child, from the time he can toddle, to respect the simple little world No. And this training will be useful in hundreds of other situations, as I have often pointed out in this column.

HAVING FAILED to control your child's viewing, you might consider getting rid of your TV. The gain thereby for your child might far exceed his loss and yours.

But as so few parents do control their own children at home, the broadcasting companies have still more responsibility for putting and successfully shift this responsibility, if they were to engage experts to tell parents on the air how to teach their children the only programs on the air fit for children to see and hear.

Of course the broadcasting companies might lessen their own responsibility, and successfully shift this responsibility, if they were to engage experts to tell parents on the air how to teach their children the meaning of No.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child the Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Deaths and Funerals

Ex-Newspaper Worker Taken

Enoch Riley, 454 Florida Ave., Chester, former circulation manager of The Review and its predecessor, The Morning Tribune, died Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Fox Nursing Home in Chester after a long illness. He was 83 and the oldest inhabitant of Chester in point of residence.

He was born in East Liverpool Sept. 19, 1876, and had lived in Chester since 1877. He was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and served as a member of its council and a Sunday School teacher for about 25 years.

From 1883 to 1897, he worked as a potter, then operated the first news stand in Chester for about 10 years. He became circulation manager of the newspaper, serving from 1916 to 1926. Before retiring in 1941, he was an insurance agent for about 15 years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Etta Wetzel Riley, at home; a son, Warren H. Riley of Chester; three sisters, Mrs. Martha Adams of Sacramento, Calif., Mrs. Sara Sheehan of Ontario, Calif., and Mrs. Elnore Hendricks of Cold Spring, Ky., two granddaughters and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Ohio Patrol Eyes Use Of Cruisers Without Markings

Ohio's State Highway Patrol, faced with a rising traffic death toll, has turned to neighboring West Virginia for some help.

West Virginia state Police Supt. Hazen Fair said Thursday that Ohio Highway Patrol Director Scott Radcliffe has written for information on West Virginia's experience in the use of unmarked cruisers.

Ohio's traffic fatality list had rocketed to 857 by June 30 of this year as compared with 753 the corresponding 1959 period. The figure does not include 30 killed over the July 4 holidays.

In marked contrast, West Virginia's highway death toll has dropped to 175 so far in 1960 — 46 under the 221 a year ago.

Fair said all of his department's 194 cruisers are unmarked.

"We consider this one of the big reasons for the drop in our traffic fatalities," he said.

The Ohio Highway Patrol plans to ask for 1961 legislation enabling it to use unmarked cars and requested information from West Virginia to back up its plan, Radcliffe wrote Fair.

Fair said another major factor in the declining state highway death toll is the use of speed timing devices, first placed into use July 1, 1959.

Herter Seen Wrong About Castro Attitude

HAVANA (AP)—European diplomats and others who know Cuba disagree with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's claim that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime is not happy over the Soviet promise to defend this island if the United States attacks.

There is no evidence to support the view expressed by Herter at his news conference Thursday, one European diplomat said.

"If there is anyone in the Cuban government wary of the embrace of the Russian bear, he hasn't made his view known and would be smart not to," the diplomat said.

Herter expressed the belief that the Soviet military pledge was spontaneous and therefore unsolicited. Observers here noted there had been repeated Cuban references to the Kremlin's act as spontaneous, but they considered it most welcome nonetheless.

Reds Change Transfer Of Downed Pilot's Body

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Capt. Willard G. Palm, 39, pilot of the U. S. RB47 plane shot down by the Soviet Union, will be delivered to the American Embassy Saturday, not today as originally announced.

The embassy said the delay was due to complexities of the transfer and of arranging shipment of the body to the United States.

The Soviet Union said the body of the pilot, from Oak Ridge, Tenn., was found in a rubber boat floating in arctic waters off the Soviet coast after his plane was shot down by a Soviet fighter July 1.

Two other members of the RB47 crew were captured. Premier Nikita Khrushchev said they would be tried for espionage. Three other crewmen were reported missing.

Judge Condemns Jailing Of Woman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Judge Rodney Weiss said Thursday it was "reprehensible and barbaric" to jail stripper Clarise Annjell overnight in the nude.

He dismissed charges of performing a lewd act, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace, filed against the dancer. The city will appeal.

Clarise, 27, was dragged away screaming and kicking from her night club act by three detectives Wednesday night.

The detectives carried her off to the paddy wagon clad only in a feather here and there and handcuffs.

At the station house a matron took the costume for evidence. Then Clarise, wearing only spike heeled shoes, was placed into a cell.

Clarise refused to accept her street clothing from a matron. But 12 hours later, faced with the prospect of wearing a baggy, white smock into court, she finally accepted her clothes and dressed.

Bright Flareup In Sky May Have Been Comet

Two East Liverpool women who observed a bright light falling through the sky about 9 Thursday night said today they believe the strange brilliance may have marked the path of a comet.

Mrs. Charles Bishop and Mrs. James Gordon, both of Maine Blvd., were standing on Mrs. Gordon's lawn when they observed a very bright star in the southeast. A short time later "a very bright light" fell through the sky, trailing a long orange tail, they reported. The falling light went out of sight behind the hills back of Chester, Mrs. Bishop said.

Deaths and Funerals

Ex-Newspaper Worker Taken

Enoch Riley, 454 Florida Ave., Chester, former circulation manager of The Review and its predecessor, The Morning Tribune, died Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Fox Nursing Home in Chester after a long illness. He was 83 and the oldest inhabitant of Chester in point of residence.

He was born in East Liverpool Sept. 19, 1876, and had lived in Chester since 1877. He was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church and served as a member of its council and a Sunday School teacher for about 25 years.

From 1883 to 1897, he worked as a potter, then operated the first news stand in Chester for about 10 years. He became circulation manager of the newspaper, serving from 1916 to 1926. Before retiring in 1941, he was an insurance agent for about 15 years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Etta Wetzel Riley, at home; a son, Warren H. Riley of Chester; three sisters, Mrs. Martha Adams of Sacramento, Calif., Mrs. Sara Sheehan of Ontario, Calif., and Mrs. Elnore Hendricks of Cold Spring, Ky., two granddaughters and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Ohio Patrol Eyes Use Of Cruisers Without Markings

Ohio's State Highway Patrol, faced with a rising traffic death toll, has turned to neighboring West Virginia for some help.

West Virginia state Police Supt. Hazen Fair said Thursday that Ohio Highway Patrol Director Scott Radcliffe has written for information on West Virginia's experience in the use of unmarked cruisers.

Ohio's traffic fatality list had rocketed to 857 by June 30 of this year as compared with 753 the corresponding 1959 period. The figure does not include 30 killed over the July 4 holidays.

In marked contrast, West Virginia's highway death toll has dropped to 175 so far in 1960 — 46 under the 221 a year ago.

Fair said all of his department's 194 cruisers are unmarked.

"We consider this one of the big reasons for the drop in our traffic fatalities," he said.

The Ohio Highway Patrol plans to ask for 1961 legislation enabling it to use unmarked cars and requested information from West Virginia to back up its plan, Radcliffe wrote Fair.

Fair said another major factor in the declining state highway death toll is the use of speed timing devices, first placed into use July 1, 1959.

Herter Seen Wrong About Castro Attitude

HAVANA (AP)—European diplomats and others who know Cuba disagree with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's claim that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime is not happy over the Soviet promise to defend this island if the United States attacks.

There is no evidence to support the view expressed by Herter at his news conference Thursday, one European diplomat said.

"If there is anyone in the Cuban government wary of the embrace of the Russian bear, he hasn't made his view known and would be smart not to," the diplomat said.

Herter expressed the belief that the Soviet military pledge was spontaneous and therefore unsolicited. Observers here noted there had been repeated Cuban references to the Kremlin's act as spontaneous, but they considered it most welcome nonetheless.

Reds Change Transfer Of Downed Pilot's Body

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Capt. Willard G. Palm, 39, pilot of the U. S. RB47 plane shot down by the Soviet Union, will be delivered to the American Embassy Saturday, not today as originally announced.

The embassy said the delay was due to complexities of the transfer and of arranging shipment of the body to the United States.

The Soviet Union said the body of the pilot, from Oak Ridge, Tenn., was found in a rubber boat floating in arctic waters off the Soviet coast after his plane was shot down by a Soviet fighter July 1.

Two other members of the RB47 crew were captured. Premier Nikita Khrushchev said they would be tried for espionage. Three other crewmen were reported missing.

Judge Condemns Jailing Of Woman

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Judge Rodney Weiss said Thursday it was "reprehensible and barbaric" to jail stripper Clarise Annjell overnight in the nude.

He dismissed charges of performing a lewd act, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace, filed against the dancer. The city will appeal.

Clarise, 27, was dragged away screaming and kicking from her night club act by three detectives Wednesday night.

The detectives carried her off to the paddy wagon clad only in a feather here and there and handcuffs.

At the station house a matron took the costume for evidence. Then Clarise, wearing only spike heeled shoes, was placed into a cell.

Clarise refused to accept her street clothing from a matron. But 12 hours later, faced with the prospect of wearing a baggy, white smock into court, she finally accepted her clothes and dressed.

DiSalle Trims Mental Farms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's mental hospitals are going out of the farming business.

The order to discontinue farming at the institutions was announced Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Farming will continue at the state's prisons, the governor said.

"The primary purpose of a mental institution is to cure people," DiSalle said. "I am interested in getting people off jobs from which they are not receiving benefits."

He said orders have gone out to discontinue farm operations at the Girls' Industrial School near Delaware in September. Similar orders are being prepared for Longview State Hospital in Cincinnati and the Columbus State Hospital and state school here. Eventually all mental institution farms will be phased out, the governor said.

"This will help the patient labor problem at mental institutions," DiSalle explained.

Criticism has been directed at the administration for use of patient labor. DiSalle said agricultural and other work will continue for those who derive therapeutic benefit from those activities.

Under the program, dairy cattle will be moved to the Marion Correctional Institution and equipment disposed of.

In another report, DiSalle announced that 507 mental patients have been transferred to nursing and rest homes since the program began last May.

Eventually DiSalle expects 3,000 patients over 65, who do not need custodial care, to be shifted from state hospitals under a Welfare Department program to place them on Aid for the Aged support.

Boat Captain Testifies In Destroyer Collision

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A destroyer skipper says he was traveling at 20 knots—in a fog where visibility was 300 yards—when another destroyer loomed suddenly ahead of him.

The two collided and 11 sailors died.

Cmdr. Albert Ford acknowledged at a naval court of inquiry Thursday that even under ideal conditions it would take 500 yards to stop his ship, the USS Collett.

Ford said the Collett was on test speed runs when it collided with the USS Ammen off the Southern California coast.

Radarmen couldn't give any reason why the Ammen wasn't sighted earlier, but pointed out that equipment was newly installed and crews weren't used to it yet.

Th Royal Marines of England won a U. S. Presidential Citation 10 years ago for heroism at Korea's Chosin Reservoir.

Fannin, who lives at 319 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, is a former board member, having served 18 years. He also served twice as president. He will finish out the unexpired term of Victor George, who died recently. The term ends Jan. 31.

George M. Burrier, manager of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and a member of the board, was appointed to take charge of the welcoming sign project, of which Mr. George was chairman.

Two large signs with additional smaller ones of several Midland organizations are expected to be erected in about a month at each end of Midland Ave., directors said.

The board plans to ask the Midland Board of Education for another meeting to discuss problems the school district will face when tuition students of the Western Beaver County School District are withdrawn to attend a proposed new high school in that area.

Dr. T. S. Boyd, president, presided. Next meeting will be Aug. 18 at the Esquire Bar.

DiSalle Trims Mental Farms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's mental hospitals are going out of the farming business.

The order to discontinue farming at the institutions was announced Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Farming will continue at the state's prisons, the governor said.

"The primary purpose of a mental institution is to cure people," DiSalle said. "I am interested in getting people off jobs from which they are not receiving benefits."

He said orders have gone out to discontinue farm operations at the Girls' Industrial School near Delaware in September. Similar orders are being prepared for Longview State Hospital in Cincinnati and the Columbus State Hospital and state school here. Eventually all mental institution farms will be phased out, the governor said.

"This will help the patient labor problem at mental institutions," DiSalle explained.

Criticism has been directed at the administration for use of patient labor. DiSalle said agricultural and other work will continue for those who derive therapeutic benefit from those activities.

Under the program, dairy cattle will be moved to the Marion Correctional Institution and equipment disposed of.

In another report, DiSalle announced that 507 mental patients have been transferred to nursing and rest homes since the program began last May.

Eventually DiSalle expects 3,000 patients over 65, who do not need custodial care, to be shifted from state hospitals under a Welfare Department program to place them on Aid for the Aged support.

Boat Captain Testifies In Destroyer Collision

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A destroyer skipper says he was traveling at 20 knots—in a fog where visibility was 300 yards—when another destroyer loomed suddenly ahead of him.

The two collided and 11 sailors died.

Cmdr. Albert Ford acknowledged at a naval court of inquiry Thursday that even under ideal conditions it would take 500 yards to stop his ship, the USS Collett.

Ford said the Collett was on test speed runs when it collided with the USS Ammen off the Southern California coast.

Radarmen couldn't give any reason why the Ammen wasn't sighted earlier, but pointed out that equipment was newly installed and crews weren't used to it yet.

Th Royal Marines of England won a U. S. Presidential Citation 10 years ago for heroism at Korea's Chosin Reservoir.

Fires

were consumed and the flames were advancing.

Flames crept closer to the Hearst San Simeon castle, a multimillion-dollar treasure of art and antiques on the California coast.

Fifty Washington State prison inmates joined National Guardsmen in Umatilla Forest to fight 117 fires. There were 106 fires in Oregon national forests.

Weary men struggled to stem the relentless advance of flames in Nevada's Toiyabe National Forest and the Tonto and Coconino National Forests in Arizona. Others battled fires near St. George, Utah.

At Missoula, Mont., 250 men and 10 bulldozers fought through heavy undergrowth to halt flames two miles west of U. S. Highway 93. Asst. Regional Forester Kenneth A. Kenney said there were more than 100 fires in the area. He called for help from Eastern parts of the country and received special crews from Upper Darby, Pa., Atlanta and Milwaukee.

Fires cracked near Kamloops in British Columbia. A 10,000-acre blaze at Spius Creek, almost controlled Wednesday, was whipped back to life by dusty winds.

Lightning started many of the fires. Abandoned campfires or carelessly tossed cigarettes were blamed for others.

2 Men Exchange Jobs And Heat Differences

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two men swapped jobs for a short time Thursday and it meant a difference of 115 degrees temperature for them.

Albert Gray estimated it was 115 degrees atop a building where he was working as a roofer. Frank Chack worked inside, in a frozen foods room, temperature zero.

Generations before air conditioning, Hawaiians discovered a high, slanted roof made a house interior cooler.

Reds Building Largest City In Arctic Circle

By PRESTON GROVER

MURMANSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The scrawny tree's trunk is only four inches in diameter—yet it was planted more than a century ago.

There is no grass, and only two months of the year will flowers and shrubs grow.

I saw no pets — cats, dogs or birds — during my brief visit here. Living is difficult enough for humans.

Three months of the year there is total darkness; another three months have 24 hours of daylight.

Under these conditions the Soviet Union is building here the biggest city in the Arctic; the country's only ice-free port with unhampered access to open sea the year round.

Since 1945, the dreary city's population has grown from about 100,000 to 226,000. While it processes 400,000 tons of fish and handles four million tons of freight a year, its importance is perhaps only beginning.

Discoveries of aluminum, phosphate fertilizer, nickel, cobalt and other ores have added new industries. And the port is becoming more strategic as a naval repair yard.

A place of exile during the czars, the city lies 900 miles north of Moscow on the extreme northwest corner of Russia where Norway, Finland and the Soviet Union are separated only by snowy waste. Remnants of the city go back 500 years or more.

Today it stretches 16 miles along the shore and in some places goes four miles inland. It is built in four units, each with schools, movies houses and shopping district so people do not have to travel far during the long, cruel winter. There are few private automobiles.

Despite the Gulf Stream, whose warm water keeps the port open, this is polar ice country. Just a few miles east is land that never thaws. A warm wind blows from—of all places—the north to bring a January thaw. Cold winds blow from the south from icy Russian steppes. Birds migrate south to north instead of north to south for the winter.

The shores are still dotted with hulks of ships sunk by the Germans during World War II when the port was bombed more than 1,000 days.

The Soviets have tried to imbue people here with a pioneer spirit, and have succeeded to a degree. But there's little doubt that many of them are here for the premium pay — 40 per cent above Moscow standards, plus the Soviet form of fringe benefits which includes six weeks summer vacation in South Russia.

Apartment houses, public buildings and schools are going up at a fast rate, and, while drab, provide thick-walled shelter for a climate disagreeable in summer and winter.

The city and port are dotted with Communist Party slogans and the influence of the Soviet regime is felt everywhere. Even the reindeer herders who used to follow their flocks around the frozen tundras, sometimes in Russia, sometimes in Finland, now are brought together on a collective reindeer farm, their roving days ended.

Old Canal Plan Being Considered

After nearly four and a half centuries of unfulfilled hopes, a new project to build an Atlantic - to-Pacific canal across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec is under consideration.

Mexico's nationalized oil industry is backing the venture and recently awarded a contract for preliminary study of the region.

The Tehuantepec canal route is about 1,200 air miles northwest of the Panama Canal. Starting at Puerto Mexico, at the mouth of the Coatzacoalcos River on the Gulf of Mexico, it would follow the river where navigable, then continue through man - made lakes and excavated channels.

At the Pacific end on Laguna Superior, the Mexican seaway would be 133 miles long, as against 50 miles for the Panama Canal.

The idea of a shortcut across the narrow waist of southern Mexico was born with Spain's 16th-century conquests in the New World. Disappointed in the search for a strait between the oceans, Hernando Cortez was quick to suggest the strategic and commercial advantages of a ship canal.

The proposal was too ambitious for the Spanish crown, then harassed by pirate raids on colonial ports and shipping. Not until the 1770's was the first practical survey of the region made.

It came to nothing, though it was revived from time to time by Spanish - colonial governments and gained world - wide notice in 1808, when it was recommended by the visiting explorer - scientist Alexander von Humboldt.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the father who complained because his 17-year-old daughter was baking cakes and spending her evenings at the fire house was great. This topic was widely discussed in our circle.

My husband is a fireman and a good one. Most firemen are decent, respectable men who work hard and risk their lives more often than we care to think about. But they're only human.

The real threats aren't the innocent, 17-year-old high school girls. It's the married women in the neighborhood, women who are bored with housework and kids that worry us wives.

A woman who hangs around a firehouse is cheap and she puts a label on herself which is unprintable. Thank you. — SMOKEEATER'S WIFE.

Squeamish And Silly

Dear Ann: My husband and I are friendly with several couples. Once a week we take turns meeting in our homes for dinner. The wives all pitch in, then we do the dishes together.

Last night we had dinner at a new member's house. She put all the dishes in the sink, including the baby's bottle. Then she took the dog's dish and put in right in with the others.

When she called the cat and set the whipped cream bowl down for him to lick that was it! I told her I wasn't used to such a thing, in fact it made me sick.

She was highly indignant and surprisingly enough—so were the rest of the girls. They called me "squeamish and silly" and agreed that scalding hot water and soap kills any and all germs.

Am I wrong? What's your opinion?—MRS. CLEAN.

Dear Mrs. Clean: Never mind my opinion—this is what a Chicago veterinarian says:

Scalding hot water and soap will kill almost any germ. It is not unhealthy to put cat and dog dishes in with the family dishes. It may be offensive, but medically speaking, it's all right."

There's your answer, Mrs. Clean, right from the vet's mouth. But I'm still in favor of keeping the animal dishes separate! So, you and I are both "squeamish and silly."

Shocked Sister

Dear Ann: What in the world is wrong with a husband who finds some phony excuse to spank his wife at least twice a month? He keeps a ping pong paddle in the bedroom for this purpose.

The wife happens to be my sister. She told me recently this has been going on since their honeymoon last May. I had never heard of such carryings on and believe me I am shocked. Is there something mentally wrong with this man?

My sister says he's a swell guy and even went so far as to defend him by admitting she usually deserves the spankings. Please give me some information.—SIMPLY SHOCKED.

-:-

Dear Simply: Of course there's something wrong with the man but before you reserve a room for him in the Laughing Academy, let me suggest you make it two. Your sister is also pretty sick.

Men who enjoy inflicting physical pain on women are sadistic and the line between a "spanking" and a beating is sometimes pretty thin.

Neurotic women who feel the need to be punished seem to attract the type of man who will oblige. You say this started on their honeymoon? I'll bet he belted her around during courtship.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Singers Raise $211 To Help Ailing Child, 9

Two quartets and the chorus of the East Liverpool Barbershop Singers' Society raised $211.50 to boost the "Dollars for Debbie" fund when they presented a program in the center of the Diamond while Key Club members "passed the hat" in Thursday night shopping crowds.

James Johnston of Vine St., chairman of the Lions Club campaign, said Thursday night's contributions raised to about $360 the total realized so far to help 9-year-old Debbie McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElroy, 424 College St., in her two-year battle against a disease of the central nervous system that has threatened her eyesight.

The program was presented by the Colonials and Welcomaires Quartets and the society's chorus, directed by Bill Brooks. Dr. Myer Alpern, a member of the Lions Club, acted as master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Jack Craddock.

About 20 members of the Key Club circulated through the crowd of bystanders to seek contributions.

The "Dollars for Debbie" drive was launched officially Monday night with contributions from members of Council and the city administration.

Debbie and her father returned recently from Montreux, Switzerland, where she received 11 injections of live sheep's eye cells from Dr. Paul Niehans, a German neuro-surgeon who practices what he calls "cellular therapy." His theory is that the live animal cells help the ailing human body.

Several other persons aided with donations prior to the trip to Switzerland.

The No. 4 Decorating Shop at Homer Laughlin China Co. donated $74, while office employes donated $66. Mrs. McElroy was a receptionist at the pottery before she was forced to quit to care for the child. She said the firm also paid her a month's salary when she went to Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore with Debbie.

Chaplin's Son Wants Dad's Name In Cement

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Charlie Chaplin Jr. is miffed because his famous father's name isn't engraved in the cement of Hollywood's sidewalks.

So he brought suit in Los Angeles Superior Court Thursday to compel the Los Angeles City Council, the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and the Hollywood Improvement Assn. to make such a record.

Young Chaplin charges that the groups "arbitrarily and with malice, prejudice and bias" decided not to include his father's name. He termed the elder Chaplin's career "a milestone in the history of picture making."

The celebrated comedian and his family now reside in Switzerland.

Legion Convenes In West Virginia

HUNTINGTON (AP) — The sidewalks along Huntington's wide streets were dotted today with men wearing dark blue overseas caps to identify them as members of the American Legion.

More than 1,000 West Virginia Legionnaires are in town for the 42nd annual meeting of the veterans organization. The attendance is expected to double before the convention ends Sunday afternoon.

Today the delegates heard addresses by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and Mike Gorman of Washington, D. C. director of the National Committee against Mental Illness.

Providing better facilities for prevention and care of mental illness has been the state group's main goal the last two years. It has been the pet project of Commander Bonn Brown, 49-year-old Elkins attorney and former Marine Corps officer.

The Legion is disappointed in the delay encountered by a measure approved by finance committees in both houses of the Legislature. The measure would authorize a detailed survey of the state's needs in the field of mental health.

The bill is stuck in the Joint Committee on Government and Finance. To help get it out, the Legionnaires have approved a resolution calling for immediate action. Copies of the resolution will be sent to each member of the committee, a spokesman said.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one hammus alabamus (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and reprocessed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

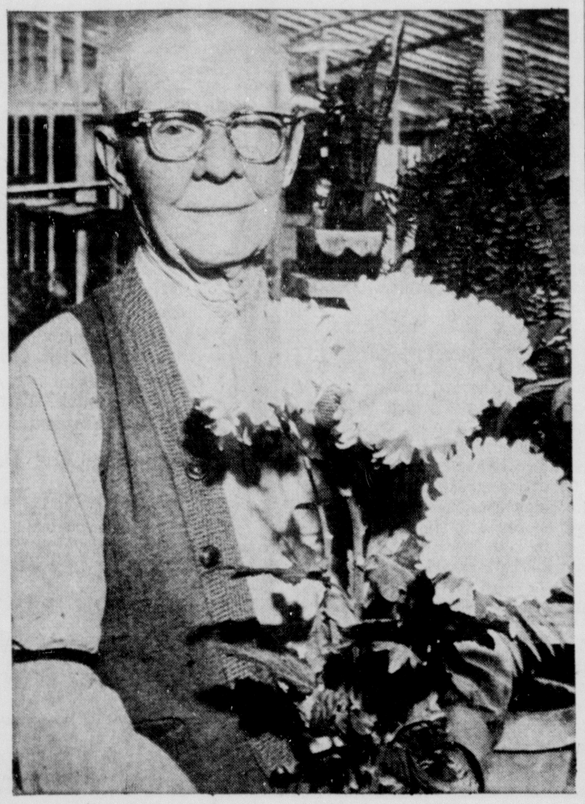
65 Years In Floral Trade

John Keil Retires At 84



A love of flowers and a "green thumb" have proven rewarding for John Keil, 84, of Glenmoor, who has retired after 65 years in the floral business in East Liverpool.

Keil, who was born Oct. 29, 1875, in the German province of Hessendarmstadt, started working in a local greenhouse in 1895 and went on to form a partnership with two fellow employes.

The three — Keil, A. J. Dietz and John Schneidmiller — formed the John Keil Co. in October 1918. Keil retired effective July 1 and the firm has been taken over by his two partners, who will continue operation under the same name.

Keil started work in a greenhouse operated by Chal Peterson Sept. 9, 1895. The greenhouse was located near where Patterson Field stadium now stands. He worked there until the Keil company was formed.

The trio opened their first shop where the First National Bank now stands on E. 5th St. It was located there from 1918 to 1923, when the building was razed to make way for the bank. bank.

The business then was reopened on Washington St. and remained there until 1940, when it was moved to the present location at 209 E. 5th St. The firm always has operated the greenhouse in Glenmoor on the Lincoln Highway. The company joined the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association in 1922, first in the city to do so.

Keil is married to the former Ada M. Hoff of Marietta. They have a son, the Rev. William Keil, a Lutheran minister at Pittsburgh, and a daughter, Mrs. Neil McIntosh of Glenmoor. Mr. and Mrs. Keil celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary July 10.

Keil is a member of the St. John's Lutheran Church. He and his wife visit in Florida frequently.

Ikeda Approves U.S. Trade Policy

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's new Prime Minister, Hayato Ikeda, said today he is satisfied with American trade policy toward Japan.

Ikeda also ruled out any immediate new parliamentary elections in Japan and denied any intention of seeking revisions of the controversial U. S.-Japanese security treaty, two things demanded by the left-wing demonstrators who forced the resignation of his predecessor, Nobusuke Kishi.

The bespectacled, conservative Ikeda, who took office last week, at a news conference expressed his deep regret for the violence which led to the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit in June.

Extensive Transfer Due

More Purchasing Changes Planned

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The decision to turn over some routine purchasing for the State Highway Department to the State Purchasing Division may be only the first step in a far more extensive transfer of buying responsibility.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston revealed Wednesday that he expects a directive to be worked out soon to allow Goerge Dick, state purchasing agent, to buy office supplies and equipment, maintenance materials and other items which Dick already acquires for other state agencies.

The list may be extended later to include such traditionally "sensitive" commodities as salt, paint and some types of machinery used in road construction and maintenance.

EXACTLY WHAT items may be ultimately included in the transfer will depend on negotiations between administration officials over many complicated factors involved in the purchases.

These factors include the technical know-how to write specifications for materials and machinery used in engineering projects and the facilities for testing products to be sure they measure up to the standards desired.

Finance Director James Maloon, whose department includes Dick's purchasing division, said decisions on which items should be purchased by Dick and which should continue to be bought by the highway department's purchasing bureau can be arrived at only after detailed talks.

In the field of vehicles alone, for instance, the highway department needs automobiles, station wagons, tractors, bulldozers and many types of heavier equipment. Each vehicle has different equipment specifications depending on its use.

—:—

"SOME PLACE ALONG the line there has to be a cutoff point," Maloon said. "The purchasing division personnel does not have the technical knowledge required to write the specifications on much of this equipment, while the highway department personnel does.

"Obviously it will take a lot of thought to decide where the dividing line should be."

Maloon said the efforts to transfer some of the purchasing responsibility have not been a sudden development.

"I had this in mind practically from the moment the administration took office in January 1959. But these things cannot be done overnight, because there are legal and financial problems involved as well as the matter of changing practices of the past," he said.

PRESTON SAYS he is in accord with the proposal.

"We'd like to unload all the highway department's purchasing," he said, "But it's not feasible to do this. The highway department has testing laboratories for checking on the quality of many of the items we must buy, and we have experts familiar enough with specific kinds of equipment to write proper specifications when we go after bids."

There are two basic reasons for the change in purchasing procedure.

One is to achieve better administrative practice and control which can promote more business-like methods in using the millions of dollars the state spends on materials and equipment.

This is the factor primarily involved in Preston's decision to turn over to Dick the responsibility for buying such routine items as office supplies.

The other is to remove from the highway department in particular and the administration in general the political pressures always involved in highway purchasing.

This is the factor concerned in discussion of extending the transfer to such "sensitive" items as paint and salt and heavier equipment.

THE ADMINISTRATION of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle already felt the sting of accusations that contracts for paint and salt were not always on the up-and-up.

The governor apparently has been satisfied that the accusations were without foundation, but he would like to provide the administration with as much insurance as possible against repeated future accusations.

He has a great deal of confidence that Dick could provide that insurance. The chief of the purchasing division is praised on all sides in Columbus for the job he has done since he left an executive position in Stark County to join the DiSalle administration when it took office.

Members of his staff who have been associated with the purchasing agency for years attest to his integrity and his businesslike approach to state buying.

AS AN EXAMPLE, one associate related the story of Christmas presents. Dick received more than 100 gifts from companies and salesmen who do business with the state or would like to.

The purchasing chief wrapped them all up and sent them back.

Gov. DiSalle states that Dick has saved and will save the state hundreds of thousands of dollars with the new methods he has applied in state buying.

The basic change he has instituted is the term contract, under which suppliers are asked to bid to furnish all the state's needs for a particular item for a specified time, usually one year.

This permits bidders to determine prices on a volume basis, thereby giving the state greater discounts. It also allows the state to keep tighter control.

AN EXAMPLE of how the system pays off is the new manual on drugs and other medical supplies for state institutions. It lists 2,500 items, each with specified standards, supplied under 41 term contracts.

The known savings for these items in a year's time under this system is set at $81,000.

Other manuals already in use under this method cover paint and printing procedures. Those in the works or planned by Dick will deal with maintenance and housekeeping supplies, equipment, food, miscellaneous items (textiles, office equipment) and purchasing procedures.

Dick is acutely aware of the political pressures that can be exerted on a governmental purchasing agency and has striven successfully to take the steam out of them.

He says unequivocally that he has been helped by Gov. DiSalle, "who has never once made the slightest suggestion that would interfere with what we are trying to do here."

It is partly because of his confidence in his purchasing chief that the governor is encouraging the transfer of some highway buying to Dick's office.

Bus Ultimatum Handed To Springfield Officials

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Springfield City Manager Roger Stilwell must either agree to raise city bus fares or Springfield Transit, Inc., will go out of service. The company gave Stilwell this ultimatum Thursday.

The measure would raise adult fares from 15 to 20 cents, children's from 10 to 15 cents, and create tokens—15 cents for adults and 13½ cents for children.

Bus Ultimatum Handed To Springfield Officials

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Springfield City Manager Roger Stilwell must either agree to raise city bus fares or Springfield Transit, Inc., will go out of service. The company gave Stilwell this ultimatum Thursday.

An ordinance calling for increases had its first reading last Monday in the commission meeting. The second reading and probable passage is expected Monday. The measure would raise adult fares from 15 to 20 cents, children's from 10 to 15 cents, and create tokens—15 cents for adults and 13½ cents for children.

The famous boardwalk of Atlantic City originated in 1896.

Dutch settlers went first to South Africa in 1652.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

A Highland Fling

While John Crosby is on vacation his column is being written by guests.

By GEORGE SCHAEFER

Dear John:

While you are lazily basking in Amagansett, I have been bouncing around Scotland learning the ways of wily sheepdogs and fighting the battle of the border country.

Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson are with me and, as you know, we are shooting a two-hour "Macbeth" in color for the Hall of Fame.

I might add, having completed my plans to produce "Macbeth" on so grand a scale, I eagerly looked forward to being reunited with Maurice and Judith in this project.

Both these distinguished performers, you know, had appeared in the earlier Hallmark production and played Macbeth and his Lady in the memorable Broadway production. Utilizing their Shakespearean acumen in the Scot King's own domain is extremely challenging and stimulating.

WE HAVE BEEN working in and around Hermitage Castle, a fabulous 13th century fortification. (Glamis Castle, alas, was sandblasted last year, freshly window paned, and atop the towers where once proud standards flew, television antennas have now been erected. Of this amachronism, the ghost of Macbeth, who was once Thane of Glamis, must be laughingly saying, "It serves Schaefer right!")

However, Hermitage also played a great historical role in the ancient battles along the Scottish border. To bring it to life we decided to use livestock, and here our troubles began.

I was unprepared for cattle, sheep in unending quantities, partridge, goats, swans, martlets, horses (of course) and assorted domestic fowl.

Fortunately the sheepdogs were on our side and when it was necessary to move a huge flock of sheep three feet farther into camera range, the order was relayed by walkie-talkie to a shepherd who gave it to the dog and within minutes the sheep were properly positioned.

-:-

THE DOG did it with much less effort than I used in moving a group of actors to a mark. I wonder if our Directors' Guild would permit me a canine assistant?

To show the horrors Macbeth inflicts in the wilder days of his reign, we filled an abandoned cottage with fire and smoke while some women and children lay lifeless outside.

As we shot the scene we were pleased to see chickens running through the picture in distress, but our smiles vanished when the canny Scotsman from whom we rented the shack claimed the smoke had offended his fowl and put in a bill for the ones he said had succumbed.

He claimed eight victims but could produce only four bodies. It was all nonsense and nothing more was heard from him when we threatened to have autopsies performed to determine how smoke can break a chicken's neck.

WHEN THE FILMING of the battle scenes began, I was doubly certain of the propriety in choosing to make "Macbeth" on his home grounds.

The spectacle of hundreds of armor-clad troops clashing in combat before the gates of this 13th century fortress was a re-enactment of many a bloody day on this same ground six centuries ago.

Fifty loyal and unemployed Scotsmen were the nucleus of our army which moved Birnam Wood to Dusinane. They were quite pleased with their roles of ancient warriors until we recruited, from Carlisle in the south, several hundred Englishmen for the big battle.

I soon learned that the Border Wars are far from over. The air was crisp with antagonism, but we tried to keep both sides calm and confused by referring to our two forces as the Reds & Whites and the Rustics instead of English and Scots.

But word soon got around and a more realistic battle never has been staged. Broad swords and tempers snapped and after each take three medical men rushed in to assess the damage and make quick repairs.

But we survived and are back in London doing our studio work in the safety of our M-G-M lot, and I must be on my way there now.

Sincerely,
George.

5 Cars, Truck Damaged In 3 City Collisions

Five autos and a light truck were damaged in three East Liverpool traffic mishaps Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

A collision on Harvey Ave. 100 feet east of Myrtle St. at 8:38 p. m. damaged a parked 1955 station wagon owned by Melvin F. Brown, 32, of Anderson Blvd. and a 1958 model pickup operated by C. M. Tarver, 74, of 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Tarver was driving east about 20 to 25 miles an hour when his truck was forced out of the traffic lane by a westbound vehicle which crossed the center line, he told police. The westbound vehicle did not stop, he added.

A mishap on E. 6th St. near Crook Alley at 5:41 p. m. involved a 1956 convertible driven by Hugh L. Smith, 24, of R. D. 1 and a 1953 sedan operated by Edna May Reed, 31, of Chester R. D. 2, officers said. Smith was eastbound on E. 6th and the woman driver was pulling from the curb, officers said.

A parked 1958 sedan owned by George Whittaker, 27, of 226 Indiana Ave., Chester, and a 1960 auto operated by Orvis Chandler, 55, of 1429 Dresden Ave. were damaged in a mishap at 1:59 p. m. on E. 5th St. near Broadway, police reported.

Chandler was driving west on E. 5th St. and Whittaker was standing alongside his car with one of the doors partially open, officers said. There was damage to the right front fender and headlight of the Chandler car and the left door and fender of Whittaker's auto, police said.

The A-frame on the left front wheel of a 1954 sedan broke Thursday at 3:37 p. m. as a Glenmoor woman drove on Pennsylvania Ave. near Bridge St., officers said.

Barbara E. Walker of Walker Ave. said she was driving about 10 to 15 miles an hour when "the car went to the left and ground to a halt" as a result of the breakage, officers said.

'Hole-In-One' Contest Canceled By Kiwanis

Plans for the Kiwanis Club to sponsor a "hole-in-one" golf contest have been canceled, John Mostoller, chairman, announced Thursday at the club's meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi discussed the training he received last fall at the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Academy in Washington. He pointed out the academy will observe its silver anniversary on July 29. Paul Blair was program chairman.

It also was announced the club is the first to complete visitations with all other clubs in its division. Edwin Maloney, chairman, said the club will begin a second round of visits, with the delegation attending the Lisbon club's interclub meeting Thursday noon. William Porter, president, presided.

Probation Violator Due Hospital Examinations

LISBON — Gerald Charles Raffle, 24, of Salineville was found guilty of probation violation Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, but sentencing was deferred because the defendant is to enter Youngstown Receiving Hospital for examination and a report to the court.

Indicted by the January Grand Jury for theft of a car owned by John Margraf, he had pleaded guilty and asked probation. He was returned to Columbiana County about a week ago from Lake George, N. Y., by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose, who cited Raffle as a probation violator.

Chrysler Probes Business Interests Of Firm's Heads

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Board Chairman L. L. Colbert of Chrysler Corp. said today an investigation is continuing into outside business interest of officials of the automobile company.

The probe was disclosed suddenly Thursday with the announcement by the board of directors in New York that William C. Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler more than $450,000 in profits made by him from interests in companies which sell to Chrysler.

Newberg quit as Chrysler president June 30 after holding the job only 64 days. At that time it was said only that there were differences of opinion on matters of corporate policy.

Varied reports circulated in Detroit regarding the reasons, but both Chrysler and Newberg remained absolutely mum until Thursday's announcement.

Thursday night, when Colbert returned to Detroit, he told newsmen the investigation will be continued by the company's general counsel, the New York Law firm of Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes, along with independent auditors.

He was asked if other Chrysler officials were involved.

"I know of no one at this time," he said. "Let's not get into that."

Three months ago at the Chrysler annual stockholders' meeting Colbert, then president of the company, said "I would like it understood that I do not own nor have I ever owned any interest, stock or otherwise, in any of our vendors." Neither did any of his family, he said, and to his knowledge neither did any of other officers or directors of Chrysler.

Chrysler and Newberg refused to identify any of the suppliers involved. Newberg, through an attorney, issued a statement saying he saw nothing wrong with his dealings, but he refused to say what the dealings were.

2 In Contributing Case Wait Hearings July 28

Two Steubenville men arrested early Sunday in company of a 14-year-old East Liverpool girl pleaded not guilty Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Judge Tobin set hearings Thursday, July 28, at 1 p. m. for the two, William E. Houchin, 22, and Edward Cochran, 23. The two were cited by East Liverpool police, who said they found the men with the girl in Houchin's car.

The girl is scheduled for a hearing as a curfew violator. Disposition of charges in Municipal Court is awaiting the outcome of the case at Lisbon. In the local court, Houchin is free on $1,000 bond on charges of carrying a .32 caliber pistol concealed in his auto and operating a car without a driver's license.

Wheat Crop's Plan Rejected In County Vote

LISBON — A record number of Columbiana County wheat growers voted Thursday in the national referendum on marketing quotas for the 1961 harvest. Their "no" to controls was louder than ever.

The total Columbiana vote was 52, with 46 opposed to the quota system in effect since the 1954 harvest.

Columbiana's vote was 32 last year and 12 in 1958, according to Earl Lora, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office here.

He said approximately 700 farmers were eligible, having indicated intentions of planting 15 acres or more of wheat for 1961 harvest. Balloting took place at the ASC office from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The county turnout yesterday contrasts with a statewide response 35 per cent below last year. Ohio farmers cast 3,293 ballots — 1,277 for quotas and 2,016 against.

Nationwide, however, there is no doubt but that the quota penalty system will be continued because the large wheat states support it overwhelmingly. A two-thirds majority is required.

Approval of the quota system for the 1961 crop means that the government will support wheat at 75 per cent of parity, rather than at 50 per cent, had it failed. The support price on this year's crop is $1.84 per bushel, Lora said.

Farmers in both Beaver and Hancock Counties ignored the wheat referendum. Not a single vote was cast at either Beaver or New Cumberland, the farm offices reported. Beaver County had about 15 eligible. A lone vote was cast in Brooke County at Wellsburg.

Navy Man On Carrier

SALINEVILLE — Boilerman 3C C. R. Linder, 109 W. Main St., is serving aboard the support aircraft carrier Wasp, which has Boston as its home port.

5 In County To Attend Kent Health Workshop

LISBON — Four nurses and a physical education teacher will attend a health workshop at Kent State University on scholarships provided by the Columbiana County Public Health League, according to Miss Lillian R. Schroeder, executive secretary.

Enrolled for the two-week course beginning Monday are Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi of Lisbon, school nurse in Southern Local District; Mrs. Leland Faloon of Hanoverton, United Local school nurse; Mrs. Raymond Thornton of Beloit R. D. 2 and Mrs. Walter Lineberry of East Liverpool R. D. 1, all registered nurses, and Raymond Russell of Hanoverton, United Local football coach and teacher.

Crowds Due At Fete

SALINEVILLE — Large crowds are anticipated tonight and Saturday night at the Ruritan Club's festival at the community baseball field. A parade featuring the high school band, Little League members and decorated cars opened the festival Thursday night. Cool weather, however, held down the crowd.

"Let's stop fiddling around and get Central GAS Air Conditioning"

George: Costs too much.

Casper the Bassett: Does not. If we buy a new house, we can get an Arkla-Servel GAS Air-Conditioning System that both heats and cools. It can be included in our mortgage payments. Or if we don't move, we can buy a Bryant Add-On Unit that connects to our present GAS Warm Air Heating System. Both the Arkla-Servel and the Bryant will comfort condition our entire house year 'round.

George: Costs too much to run.

Casper: Not a GAS Air-Conditioning System. Friend of mine lives with a family that has one. They have a 1,250 sq. ft. house. Their average monthly bill is less than $15 to both heat and cool with Gas. And the Gas Company financed the whole air-conditioning system, including installation. No money down, 5 years to pay. The low monthly installments can be paid with our Gas bills.

George: You've convinced me. Let's get one.

However, Hermitage also played a great historical role in the ancient battles along the Scottish border. To bring it to life we decided to use livestock, and here our troubles began.

I was unprepared for cattle, sheep in unending quantities, partridge, goats, swans, martlets, horses (of course) and assorted domestic fowl.

Fortunately the sheepdogs were on our side and when it was necessary to move a huge flock of sheep three feet farther into camera range, the order was relayed by walkie-talkie to a shepherd who gave it to the dog and within minutes the sheep were properly positioned.

-:-

THE DOG did it with much less effort than I used in moving a group of actors to a mark. I wonder if our Directors' Guild would permit me a canine assistant?

To show the horrors Macbeth inflicts in the wilder days of his reign, we filled an abandoned cottage with fire and smoke while some women and children lay lifeless outside.

As we shot the scene we were pleased to see chickens running through the picture in distress, but our smiles vanished when the canny Scotsman from whom we rented the shack claimed the smoke had offended his fowl and put in a bill for the ones he said had succumbed.

He claimed eight victims but could produce only four bodies. It was all nonsense and nothing more was heard from him when we threatened to have autopsies performed to determine how smoke can break a chicken's neck.

WHEN THE FILMING of the battle scenes began, I was doubly certain of the propriety in choosing to make "Macbeth" on his home grounds.

The spectacle of hundreds of armor-clad troops clashing in combat before the gates of this 13th century fortress was a re-enactment of many a bloody day on this same ground six centuries ago.

Fifty loyal and unemployed Scotsmen were the nucleus of our army which moved Birnam Wood to Dusinane. They were quite pleased with their roles of ancient warriors until we recruited, from Carlisle in the south, several hundred Englishmen for the big battle.

I soon learned that the Border Wars are far from over. The air was crisp with antagonism, but we tried to keep both sides calm and confused by referring to our two forces as the Reds & Whites and the Rustics instead of English and Scots.

But word soon got around and a more realistic battle never has been staged. Broad swords and tempers snapped and after each take three medical men rushed in to assess the damage and make quick repairs.

But we survived and are back in London doing our studio work in the safety of our M-G-M lot, and I must be on my way there now.

Sincerely,
George.

5 Cars, Truck Damaged In 3 City Collisions

Five autos and a light truck were damaged in three East Liverpool traffic mishaps Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

A collision on Harvey Ave. 100 feet east of Myrtle St. at 8:38 p. m. damaged a parked 1955 station wagon owned by Melvin F. Brown, 32, of Anderson Blvd. and a 1958 model pickup operated by C. M. Tarver, 74, of 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Tarver was driving east about 20 to 25 miles an hour when his truck was forced out of the traffic lane by a westbound vehicle which crossed the center line, he told police. The westbound vehicle did not stop, he added.

A mishap on E. 6th St. near Crook Alley at 5:41 p. m. involved a 1956 convertible driven by Hugh L. Smith, 24, of R. D. 1 and a 1953 sedan operated by Edna May Reed, 31, of Chester R. D. 2, officers said. Smith was eastbound on E. 6th and the woman driver was pulling from the curb, officers said.

A parked 1958 sedan owned by George Whittaker, 27, of 226 Indiana Ave., Chester, and a 1960 auto operated by Orvis Chandler, 55, of 1429 Dresden Ave. were damaged in a mishap at 1:59 p. m. on E. 5th St. near Broadway, police reported.

Chandler was driving west on E. 5th St. and Whittaker was standing alongside his car with one of the doors partially open, officers said. There was damage to the right front fender and headlight of the Chandler car and the left door and fender of Whittaker's auto, police said.

The A-frame on the left front wheel of a 1954 sedan broke Thursday at 3:37 p. m. as a Glenmoor woman drove on Pennsylvania Ave. near Bridge St., officers said.

Barbara E. Walker of Walker Ave. said she was driving about 10 to 15 miles an hour when "the car went to the left and ground to a halt" as a result of the breakage, officers said.

'Hole-In-One' Contest Canceled By Kiwanis

Plans for the Kiwanis Club to sponsor a "hole-in-one" golf contest have been canceled, John Mostoller, chairman, announced Thursday at the club's meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi discussed the training he received last fall at the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Academy in Washington. He pointed out the academy will observe its silver anniversary on July 29. Paul Blair was program chairman.

It also was announced the club is the first to complete visitations with all other clubs in its division. Edwin Maloney, chairman, said the club will begin a second round of visits, with the delegation attending the Lisbon club's interclub meeting Thursday noon. William Porter, president, presided.

Probation Violator Due Hospital Examinations

LISBON — Gerald Charles Raffle, 24, of Salineville was found guilty of probation violation Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, but sentencing was deferred because the defendant is to enter Youngstown Receiving Hospital for examination and a report to the court.

Indicted by the January Grand Jury for theft of a car owned by John Margraf, he had pleaded guilty and asked probation. He was returned to Columbiana County about a week ago from Lake George, N. Y., by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose, who cited Raffle as a probation violator.

Chrysler Probes Business Interests Of Firm's Heads

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Board Chairman L. L. Colbert of Chrysler Corp. said today an investigation is continuing into outside business interest of officials of the automobile company.

The probe was disclosed suddenly Thursday with the announcement by the board of directors in New York that William C. Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler more than $450,000 in profits made by him from interests in companies which sell to Chrysler.

Newberg quit as Chrysler president June 30 after holding the job only 64 days. At that time it was said only that there were differences of opinion on matters of corporate policy.

Varied reports circulated in Detroit regarding the reasons, but both Chrysler and Newberg remained absolutely mum until Thursday's announcement.

Thursday night, when Colbert returned to Detroit, he told newsmen the investigation will be continued by the company's general counsel, the New York Law firm of Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes, along with independent auditors.

He was asked if other Chrysler officials were involved.

"I know of no one at this time," he said. "Let's not get into that."

Three months ago at the Chrysler annual stockholders' meeting Colbert, then president of the company, said "I would like it understood that I do not own nor have I ever owned any interest, stock or otherwise, in any of our vendors." Neither did any of his family, he said, and to his knowledge neither did any of other officers or directors of Chrysler.

Chrysler and Newberg refused to identify any of the suppliers involved. Newberg, through an attorney, issued a statement saying he saw nothing wrong with his dealings, but he refused to say what the dealings were.

2 In Contributing Case Wait Hearings July 28

Two Steubenville men arrested early Sunday in company of a 14-year-old East Liverpool girl pleaded not guilty Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Judge Tobin set hearings Thursday, July 28, at 1 p. m. for the two, William E. Houchin, 22, and Edward Cochran, 23. The two were cited by East Liverpool police, who said they found the men with the girl in Houchin's car.

The girl is scheduled for a hearing as a curfew violator. Disposition of charges in Municipal Court is awaiting the outcome of the case at Lisbon. In the local court, Houchin is free on $1,000 bond on charges of carrying a .32 caliber pistol concealed in his auto and operating a car without a driver's license.

Wheat Crop's Plan Rejected In County Vote

LISBON — A record number of Columbiana County wheat growers voted Thursday in the national referendum on marketing quotas for the 1961 harvest. Their "no" to controls was louder than ever.

The total Columbiana vote was 52, with 46 opposed to the quota system in effect since the 1954 harvest.

Columbiana's vote was 32 last year and 12 in 1958, according to Earl Lora, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office here.

He said approximately 700 farmers were eligible, having indicated intentions of planting 15 acres or more of wheat for 1961 harvest. Balloting took place at the ASC office from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The county turnout yesterday contrasts with a statewide response 35 per cent below last year. Ohio farmers cast 3,293 ballots — 1,277 for quotas and 2,016 against.

Nationwide, however, there is no doubt but that the quota penalty system will be continued because the large wheat states support it overwhelmingly. A two-thirds majority is required.

Approval of the quota system for the 1961 crop means that the government will support wheat at 75 per cent of parity, rather than at 50 per cent, had it failed. The support price on this year's crop is $1.84 per bushel, Lora said.

Farmers in both Beaver and Hancock Counties ignored the wheat referendum. Not a single vote was cast at either Beaver or New Cumberland, the farm offices reported. Beaver County had about 15 eligible. A lone vote was cast in Brooke County at Wellsburg.

Navy Man On Carrier

SALINEVILLE — Boilerman 3C C. R. Linder, 109 W. Main St., is serving aboard the support aircraft carrier Wasp, which has Boston as its home port.

5 In County To Attend Kent Health Workshop

LISBON — Four nurses and a physical education teacher will attend a health workshop at Kent State University on scholarships provided by the Columbiana County Public Health League, according to Miss Lillian R. Schroeder, executive secretary.

Enrolled for the two-week course beginning Monday are Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi of Lisbon, school nurse in Southern Local District; Mrs. Leland Faloon of Hanoverton, United Local school nurse; Mrs. Raymond Thornton of Beloit R. D. 2 and Mrs. Walter Lineberry of East Liverpool R. D. 1, all registered nurses, and Raymond Russell of Hanoverton, United Local football coach and teacher.

Crowds Due At Fete

SALINEVILLE — Large crowds are anticipated tonight and Saturday night at the Ruritan Club's festival at the community baseball field. A parade featuring the high school band, Little League members and decorated cars opened the festival Thursday night. Cool weather, however, held down the crowd.

"Let's stop fiddling around and get Central GAS Air Conditioning"

George: Costs too much.

Casper the Bassett: Does not. If we buy a new house, we can get an Arkla-Servel GAS Air-Conditioning System that both heats and cools. It can be included in our mortgage payments. Or if we don't move, we can buy a Bryant Add-On Unit that connects to our present GAS Warm Air Heating System. Both the Arkla-Servel and the Bryant will comfort condition our entire house year 'round.

George: Costs too much to run.

Casper: Not a GAS Air-Conditioning System. Friend of mine lives with a family that has one. They have a 1,250 sq. ft. house. Their average monthly bill is less than $15 to both heat and cool with Gas. And the Gas Company financed the whole air-conditioning system, including installation. No money down, 5 years to pay. The low monthly installments can be paid with our Gas bills.

George: You've convinced me. Let's get one.

Take Me Out To The Ball Game . . .

Fair weather fans, a starting pitcher who didn't get to throw one ball and a Dixieland Band added spice to last Sunday's doubleheader at Forbes Field between the Pirates and Cincinnati.

Fans are fans the world over, and Pittsburgh is no exception. For example, in the eighth inning of the first game Dick Stuart stepped up to the plate to pinch hit and had an opportunity to drive in the tieing and winning runs. Just 24 hours before, on Saturday, he had come up to pinch hit and clouted a home run to give the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Reds. As he left the dugout Sunday, the some 36,000 fans greeted their hero of Saturday with a rousing applause.

The warmth extended the big fellow lasted only a few minutes, however, when their hero popped up. One "fan" with a good set of lungs bellowed: "You big fish, I thought you were just lucky yesterday!"

Stuart has had his share of boos and jeers from the paying customers when he has failed at the plate. They apparently expect him to hit a home run every time he comes up.

Stuart had a professional answer when asked whether or not the booing bothered him.

His reply "Forbes Field only seats about 35,000. Think of guys like Mickey Mantle when he is in a slump. Yankee Stadium seats twice as many fans as we do and the booing must be twice as bad," I feel sorry for Mantle."

And The Band Played On . . .

THE SECOND game of Sunday's doubleheader started like any other Major League game. But after the Reds were retired in the top of the first things began popping.

Big Don Newcombe went to the mound and began warming up. Before Billy Virdon stepped up to the plate to lead off for the Pirates, umpire Dusty Boggess went out to the mound and ordered Newcombe to change his sweatshirt, since one sleeve was longer than the other.

The rules say that the sleeves must be approximately the same length.

After a brief exchange of words, Newcombe went lumbering off the mound into the Reds' dugout.

As he changed his shirt, the Dixieland Band, which is a new addition to Forbes Field, struck up "A Pretty Girl" and as Newcombe started back to the field the tune changed to "Oh You Beautiful Doll."

The band apparently didn't help Newcombe's nerves. As he came within talking distance of Dusty Boggess, he spurted, "What would you do if I was Pete Gray?" (He was the only one - armed baseball player ever to play in the Major Leagues.)

Bogges retorted, "Get out there and pitch." Newcombe whirled around and offered "Get in there and umpire." Then a few words which would have to be censored were added and that was all for Newk as Bogges gave him the old heave-ho.

Newcombe got in a few more words before retiring and the band played "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

It took another 20 minutes for Cal McLish to come in and warm up. After all the fanfare they finally got around to playing a baseball game, which the Pirates won, 5-0.

Umpires Having Their Troubles . . .

MAJOR LEAGUE umpires are having a rough season but so are the "men-in-blue" around the American Association.

Association president Ed Doherty says he has seen a lot of temper displays in his 40-odd years in baseball. But this summer in the Association tops them all. He said:

"It's the first time I ever saw a manager tear up an umpire's lineup card.

"It's the first time I ever heard a manager order a pitcher to throw at the plate umpire while the catcher stayed on his haunches.

"And it's the first time I ever saw a player wear a hangman's noose to indicate he thought the umpire choked up on a decision."

All three violators were fined, Doherty said, as were various and sundry pugilists of the diamond who indicated their displeasure with the way things were going by bopping somebody on the nose.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

YOU THINK you have troubles? Try and umpire a Minor League game when your own son is playing.

George Vukas did the other night in the Potters Bank and Trust-Bergener game. George was the home plate umpire and his son Bob was on base.

Bob started home on a ground ball and the play was made at the plate. It was close at home and George called his son safe.

Immediately came protests from Bergener fans and players. But George quickly turned to the Bergener manager and asked his opinion. He agreed with the decision and order was restored.

If there was ever a man on the spot, it was George.

A STORY on today's sports page says the East Liverpool Nationals League All-Stars won by forfeit from Uhrichsville.

The reason Uhrichsville didn't enter the tournament was officials had trouble picking an all-star team.

It seems some parents got into the act when their sons weren't picked on the team. They raised so much trouble about the selections that league officials decided to forget about having a team.

Cards Break Braves' Win Streak, 9-4

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hal Smith is the Babe Ruth of the Los Angeles Coliseum. The Pittsburgh catcher plays screeno with Walter O'Malley's handy little gadget in left field like the man who invented the game.

Smith hit two more over the screen Thursday night in Pittsburgh's 4-1 victory over the Dodgers. The pair ran his season total to nine. Six of them have been hit at the Coliseum, four in the last two days.

As a result of Smith's home runs and a five-hit pitching job by Vern Law, who won his 12th, the Pirates again lead Milwaukee by 1½ games.

St. Louis gave the Bucs a helping hand in an afternoon game at Milwaukee where they broke the Braves' seven-game winning streak 9-4. A six-run rally in the sixth inning helped Larry Jackson win his 12th.

Manager Gene Mauch disputed the official scorer's call on the single that robbed Roberts of his first no-hitter. Roberts took the ruling by scorer Jim McGee philosophically.

The single came on a ball hit at third baseman Joe Morgan. Stepping back to field the bouncer, Morgan stabbed the ball but fell to the ground. It was scored a base hit.

Bob Anderson pitched the last-place Chicago Cubs to an 8-1 victory over Cincinnati in the other National League game.

Pittsburgh scored two in the third at Los Angeles on Roberto Clemente's single with the bases loaded. Smith hit No. 8 in the fourth and No. 9 in the seventh, both off Johnny Podres.

It was Law's third victory over the Dodgers and his third complete game against them in three starts. The right-hander had gone the route six straight times at the Coliseum since he was knocked out May 1, 1958.

The Cardinals, blanked Wednesday night by Warren Spahn, were held to one hit in the first five innings, but they rose up and chased Carl Willey in the big sixth. Bill White's two-run double with the bases loaded opened the gates.

Movements Of Lake Fish To Be Studied

Two test nets have been set in Zepernick Lake by the fish management section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife in order to determine the movements of fish after the water has been treated with copper sulphate.

About a third of the lake where one of the nets has been set was treated with copper sulphate while the other net is set in the untreated area. All fish taken in the treated area are fin clipped in order that they may be identified when taken in the net in the untreated area.

This testing will be done for the next two weeks. The same test conducted at Aquilla Lake in 1959 increased the net catch 10 times after using copper sulphate. Copper sulphate makes the fish move around.

Fishermen are urged to fish this area for the next two weeks, as fishing should be good as long as the fish are made to move about.

Copper sulphate does not work on perch or walleyes, but has proved most successful in stimulating the movements of bass, bluegills and bullhead catfish. No walleyes or perch exist in Zepernick Lake. Bass, bluegills and bullheads are plentiful. Night fishing should be good for bullheads.

Creel census reports will be kept daily by one of the men in the fish management section assigned for this special duty.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In a brilliant career dating back to 1948, Robin Roberts has appeared in 489 baseball games for the Philadelphia Phillies. He has won 227. Never did he come closer to a no-hit, no-run performance than he did Thursday.

Manager Gene Mauch contended he should have had one. So did third baseman Joe Morgan who figured in the controversial infield single by Felipe Alou in the fifth inning — the only hit as Roberts and the Phillies won 3-0.

With two out in the fifth, Alou hit a sharp bouncer to Morgan. The third baseman stepped back, stabbed the ball but fell. Official scorer James M. McGee ruled it a hit.

"The rules say the first hit of a game has got to be legitimate, and it was not," declared Mauch. "That was as legitimate a no-hitter as has ever been pitched."

Said an unhappy Morgan, "They should have flashed the error sign right away. I think they could have given me an error."

Roberts didn't appear perturbed. "You know," he said, "you know if they didn't give that boy a hit on that one, they might get another.

"This is as close as I've ever come. Someday I might pitch one."

Ohio Stars Are Minus Two Tackles For All-Star Tilt

The Columbiana County All-Stars were dealt a big blow when a pair of 200-pound tackles failed to report to the training camp at Mt. Union College, Alliance.

Bruce Reynolds, East Liverpool's 240-pound lineman, and Salem's Joe Julian, an outstanding tackle, indicated they would not play in the first annual Penn-Ohio All-Star game set for next Friday night at Patterson Field.

Coach Bud Bucher of the Ohio team said "the loss of these two boys will definitely hurt us. They won't be easy to replace."

That boils the tackle stock down to only two — Ned Chappel (195) of Salem and Chuck Robinson (205) of East Palestine.

Asked if he might switch Bob Mackall, East Liverpool's All-Ohio quarterback, to a halfback spot, Bucher said Mackall will be used at quarterback. "We have plenty of good halfbacks with lots of speed."

The Lisbon high mentor can call on George Morris, East Palestine's leading scorer last season; Dave Zelch, who performed for the Potters; Fred Phillis, Salem's leading scorer; Tom Brooks, the speedster from Lisbon, or little Dave Macry, a 135-pound flash from Leetonia.

Both the Ohio and Pennsylvania squads have been holding two-a-day practice sessions. Willie Ciccone has replaced John Petchel as head coach of the Pennsylvania squad. Ciccone is head coach at New Castle and is being assisted by aides from his own New Castle staff.

The morning drills begin at 9:30, with the afternoon sessions at 3.

Bucher said he doesn't plan any contact work or scrimmage until next week.

First Division Teams Batter Tribe Pitching

BOSTON (AP) — Inability of Cleveland pitchers to beat the New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles with regularity is the reason the Indians are not leading the American league.

The Cleveland pitching staff's combined earned run average in 38 games against these three teams is 4.83. The Tribe has lost 22 of the 38.

The Indians' young pitchers haven't fared any better against the Detroit Tigers, who have won six out of 10 games from them.

However, against Washington, Boston and Kansas City the pitchers have given up less than three earned runs a game and the Indians have won 26 of 35.

The Yankees, holding a one-game edge over the runner - up White Sox and 2½ games ahead of the third-place Indians, are in a position to increase their lead because they play the next eight games against those two teams.

While the Yanks and White Sox are playing a four-game series in New York, the Indians meet the Red Sox in four games here. The Indians then go to New York for four games.

Jim Grant will open for the Indians tonight against Boston's Ike Delock, who shut out the Athletics 1-0, in his last start.

After the series in New York the Indians play three games each in Baltimore and Washington before returning to Cleveland Aug. 5.

Take Me Out To The Ball Game . . .

Fair weather fans, a starting pitcher who didn't get to throw one ball and a Dixieland Band added spice to last Sunday's doubleheader at Forbes Field between the Pirates and Cincinnati.

Fans are fans the world over, and Pittsburgh is no exception. For example, in the eighth inning of the first game Dick Stuart stepped up to the plate to pinch hit and had an opportunity to drive in the tieing and winning runs. Just 24 hours before, on Saturday, he had come up to pinch hit and clouted a home run to give the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Reds. As he left the dugout Sunday, the some 36,000 fans greeted their hero of Saturday with a rousing applause.

The warmth extended the big fellow lasted only a few minutes, however, when their hero popped up. One "fan" with a good set of lungs bellowed: "You big fish, I thought you were just lucky yesterday!"

Stuart has had his share of boos and jeers from the paying customers when he has failed at the plate. They apparently expect him to hit a home run every time he comes up.

Stuart had a professional answer when asked whether or not the booing bothered him.

His reply "Forbes Field only seats about 35,000. Think of guys like Mickey Mantle when he is in a slump. Yankee Stadium seats twice as many fans as we do and the booing must be twice as bad," I feel sorry for Mantle."

And The Band Played On . . .

THE SECOND game of Sunday's doubleheader started like any other Major League game. But after the Reds were retired in the top of the first things began popping.

Big Don Newcombe went to the mound and began warming up. Before Billy Virdon stepped up to the plate to lead off for the Pirates, umpire Dusty Boggess went out to the mound and ordered Newcombe to change his sweatshirt, since one sleeve was longer than the other.

The rules say that the sleeves must be approximately the same length.

After a brief exchange of words, Newcombe went lumbering off the mound into the Reds' dugout.

As he changed his shirt, the Dixieland Band, which is a new addition to Forbes Field, struck up "A Pretty Girl" and as Newcombe started back to the field the tune changed to "Oh You Beautiful Doll."

The band apparently didn't help Newcombe's nerves. As he came within talking distance of Dusty Boggess, he spurted, "What would you do if I was Pete Gray?" (He was the only one - armed baseball player ever to play in the Major Leagues.)

Bogges retorted, "Get out there and pitch." Newcombe whirled around and offered "Get in there and umpire." Then a few words which would have to be censored were added and that was all for Newk as Bogges gave him the old heave-ho.

Newcombe got in a few more words before retiring and the band played "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

It took another 20 minutes for Cal McLish to come in and warm up. After all the fanfare they finally got around to playing a baseball game, which the Pirates won, 5-0.

Umpires Having Their Troubles . . .

MAJOR LEAGUE umpires are having a rough season but so are the "men-in-blue" around the American Association.

Association president Ed Doherty says he has seen a lot of temper displays in his 40-odd years in baseball. But this summer in the Association tops them all. He said:

"It's the first time I ever saw a manager tear up an umpire's lineup card.

"It's the first time I ever heard a manager order a pitcher to throw at the plate umpire while the catcher stayed on his haunches.

"And it's the first time I ever saw a player wear a hangman's noose to indicate he thought the umpire choked up on a decision."

All three violators were fined, Doherty said, as were various and sundry pugilists of the diamond who indicated their displeasure with the way things were going by bopping somebody on the nose.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

YOU THINK you have troubles? Try and umpire a Minor League game when your own son is playing.

George Vukas did the other night in the Potters Bank and Trust-Bergener game. George was the home plate umpire and his son Bob was on base.

Bob started home on a ground ball and the play was made at the plate. It was close at home and George called his son safe.

Immediately came protests from Bergener fans and players. But George quickly turned to the Bergener manager and asked his opinion. He agreed with the decision and order was restored.

If there was ever a man on the spot, it was George.

A STORY on today's sports page says the East Liverpool Nationals League All-Stars won by forfeit from Uhrichsville.

The reason Uhrichsville didn't enter the tournament was officials had trouble picking an all-star team.

It seems some parents got into the act when their sons weren't picked on the team. They raised so much trouble about the selections that league officials decided to forget about having a team.

Cards Break Braves' Win Streak, 9-4

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hal Smith is the Babe Ruth of the Los Angeles Coliseum. The Pittsburgh catcher plays screeno with Walter O'Malley's handy little gadget in left field like the man who invented the game.

Smith hit two more over the screen Thursday night in Pittsburgh's 4-1 victory over the Dodgers. The pair ran his season total to nine. Six of them have been hit at the Coliseum, four in the last two days.

As a result of Smith's home runs and a five-hit pitching job by Vern Law, who won his 12th, the Pirates again lead Milwaukee by 1½ games.

St. Louis gave the Bucs a helping hand in an afternoon game at Milwaukee where they broke the Braves' seven-game winning streak 9-4. A six-run rally in the sixth inning helped Larry Jackson win his 12th.

Philadelphia's Robin Roberts threw a one-hitter, blanking San Francisco 3-0. The only hit was an infield single by Felipe Alou with two out in the fifth.

Manager Gene Mauch disputed the official scorer's call on the single that robbed Roberts of his first no-hitter. Roberts took the ruling by scorer Jim McGee philosophically.

The single came on a ball hit at third baseman Joe Morgan. Stepping back to field the bouncer, Morgan stabbed the ball but fell to the ground. It was scored a base hit.

Bob Anderson pitched the last-place Chicago Cubs to an 8-1 victory over Cincinnati in the other National League game.

Pittsburgh scored two in the third at Los Angeles on Roberto Clemente's single with the bases loaded. Smith hit No. 8 in the fourth and No. 9 in the seventh, both off Johnny Podres.

It was Law's third victory over the Dodgers and his third complete game against them in three starts. The right-hander had gone the route six straight times at the Coliseum since he was knocked out May 1, 1958.

The Cardinals, blanked Wednesday night by Warren Spahn, were held to one hit in the first five innings, but they rose up and chased Carl Willey in the big sixth. Bill White's two-run double with the bases loaded opened the gates.

Movements Of Lake Fish To Be Studied

Two test nets have been set in Zepernick Lake by the fish management section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife in order to determine the movements of fish after the water has been treated with copper sulphate.

About a third of the lake where one of the nets has been set was treated with copper sulphate while the other net is set in the untreated area. All fish taken in the treated area are fin clipped in order that they may be identified when taken in the net in the untreated area.

This testing will be done for the next two weeks. The same test conducted at Aquilla Lake in 1959 increased the net catch 10 times after using copper sulphate. Copper sulphate makes the fish move around.

Fishermen are urged to fish this area for the next two weeks, as fishing should be good as long as the fish are made to move about.

Copper sulphate does not work on perch or walleyes, but has proved most successful in stimulating the movements of bass, bluegills and bullhead catfish. No walleyes or perch exist in Zepernick Lake. Bass, bluegills and bullheads are plentiful. Night fishing should be good for bullheads.

Creel census reports will be kept daily by one of the men in the fish management section assigned for this special duty.

EL Nationals Win Forfeit; Americans To Meet Scio

The East Liverpool Nationals have moved into the semi-finals of the District 4 Little League tournament after Uhrichsville forfeited the game which was scheduled for tonight at Uhrichsville.

The Uhrichsville Little League ran into difficulty picking an all-star team and decided to forfeit tonight's contest.

East Liverpool will meet the winner of tonight's Massillon American Canton Timken game on Monday at East Liverpool.

Tonight the East Liverpool Americans make their debut meeting Scio at Myler Park. The game is set for 6 p. m.

Scio eliminated the Wellsville All-Stars 6-4 in an extra-inning game Thursday at Scio.

Jerry Miller of the Stark Central pitched a no-hitter as he faced only 19 batters in a 7-0 victory over Wayne Thursday.

In one other tourney battle, Massillon's American League stars defeated North Canton, 12-1.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Turf Club today opens its thoroughbread horse racing meeting in southwest Ohio at rented quarters in River Downs.

It's the first time there has been so much racing at River Downs in years.

River Downs closed its usual 44-day meeting only last Saturday.

Chief attraction in today's nine races is the Cincinnati Turf Inaugural, over seven furlongs.

One entrant, the Cincinnati-owned Slate, set the track mark for seven furlongs on the turf on June 7, winning in 1:24 3-5.

Palmer Leads Field By 1 Stroke In Akron PGA Tourney

Snead Is 2nd To Arnold's Opening 67

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer headed for an unprecedented triple today as he led the 42nd PGA championship into the second round by a single stroke.

After being forced to birdie the last two holes to win the Masters, and coming from seven strokes off the pace to take the National Open, the Pennsylvania strong boy said: "It's nice to be out in front for once."

The Ligonier lad blazed a 34-33—67 over Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard par-70 layout, with four birdies and a bogey. He nosed out veteran Sam Snead who snared this championship 18 years ago and twice since.

The performances of the two long hitters featured the first day of this extravaganza in which the biggest PGA field in history is playing on the tournament's longest course for the biggest purse before the largest gallery. The first round's paid attendance was 10,225.

The long layout, its narrow fairways bordered by heavy roughs and crossed by streams and ponds, took a heavy talent toll, especially in the ranks of the club professionals for whom the showpiece was fashioned.

Only nine of the top 32 scorers are nontourists, the moneymakers taking command of the first eight places and 15 of the leading 18. Just how many of the teaching pros will be around after today's cut to the low 90—with the cutoff slated at scores near 151—is problematical.

Palmer put together his round early and then let the starting field of 184 fire at his 67. Snead, 48, bothered by a hooking driver, came in late and made the biggest bid. Invited into the press tent for a chat with the scribes, the West Virginia slammer drawled: "Can't do it right now. Have to practice before I cool off."

Joining Palmer and Snead as the only parbreakers were Paul Harney, the slim tourist from Worcester, Mass., and veteran Freddie Haas of New Orleans, each with a 69. Bracketed at par 70 were Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., who tied for the runner-up spot last year; Don Fairfield, 31, of Casey, Ill.; Don January, 30, of Dallas, and sweet-swinging Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif.

Three club pros huddled into a 10-way tie at 71. The top teachers were John O'Donnell of Baltimore, Bob Harris of Winnetka, Ill., and Ed Griffiths, former Ohio Open champion from Youngstown.

The 90 survivors of today's round will be cut to 60 for Sunday's 18-hole dash to the wire. All who complete the 72 holes will get a slice of the $60,000 purse. Last placers are expected to profit by something over $200.

Yankees, Chicago Face Showdown

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first showdown series of the year opens tonight at Yankee Stadium where the New York Yankees, nursing a one-game lead, take on the second-place Chicago White Sox in the first of four games.

It will be White Sox speed and sound pitching against the Yanks' home-run power and wobbly pitching in the series that overshadows other doings in the American League. They will play one game tonight, Saturday afternoon, and two Sunday. The Yanks hold a 7-4 season edge winning the last seven from the Sox.

Most of the league spent Thursday on the road, but Detroit managed to climb into a fifth-place tie with Washington by beating the Senators 9-5 in the only game played. Frank Lary, helped by Dave Sisler, managed to hold enough of an early 7-0 lead to offset Washington's late home run power.

Jim Lemon hit his 22nd and 23rd and Harmon Killebrew his eighth, but the Senators never could catch the Tigers. Rocky Colavito's 20th homer with two on in the fifth inning helped build up Lary's lead.

In the National League, Pittsburgh widened its lead to 1½ games by downing Los Angeles 4-1 on a pair of home runs by Hal Smith, after Milwaukee had lost to St. Louis 9-4, breaking a seven-game winning streak. Robin Roberts of Philadelphia pitched a one-hitter against San Francisco, winning 3-0, and Chicago whipped Cincinnati 8-1.

For the opener at Yankee Stadium, Manager Casey Stengel has Bob Turley, 6-1, ready to oppose Early Wynn.

Manager Al Lopez finally is getting the kind of pitching he thought he had last spring to make a successful defense of the championship. White Sox starters have gone the route in four of their last five games, and the club has won 17 of its last 24. Since the traditional July 4 dividing line, the Sox have climbed from fourth place, six games out, to second, only one off the pace.

Roger Maris continues to stay ahead of Babe Ruth's record home-run pace of 1927 when he hit 60 home runs. Maris has hit 31, putting him 11 games ahead of Ruth. Mickey Mantle is running ahead of last year with 23 to his credit, and Moose Skowron has 16 homers and 64 runs batted in. Maris, of course, tops the league with 76 RBI.

Rochester Pitcher Loses On 4-Hitter

By The Associated Press

There are days when you can't make a nickel. Ask Rochester rookie Bob Sadowski, who shut out Toronto's rumbling Maple Leafs on two hits for nine innings—and then lost a 10-inning four - hitter against the International League leaders.

Steve Demeter slugged a three-run homer in the 10th for a 3-2 victory at Rochester Thursday night. The Red Wings battled back with home runs by Ben Mateosky and Luke Easter, but they weren't enough to bar the Leafs from their seventh straight success.

Buffalo, 13 games back of the Leafs, moved a full game ahead of Richmond in their scrap for second place. The Bisons rapped Montreal 4-3 on Don Landrum's tie-breaking home run. Richmond was walloped 13-4 at Jersey City.

Last place Miami dropped Columbus 1-0 on the six-hit pitching of Herb Moford and the defensive play of center fielder Barry Shetrone—who twice threw out runners at the plate.

Bennie Daniels of Columbus pitched six perfect innings at Miami before Angelo Dagres beat out a bouncer down the first base line leading off the seventh. Dagres went to second on a passed ball, reached third on Sheltron's sacrifice and came in on Dick Brown's one-out single for Daniels' first defeat in five decisions.

Marine Pulls Upset In Net Tournament

CHICAGO (AP) — Jon Douglas, 23, a Marine, has established a beachhead in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament against the big guns of three Davis Cup players.

The stocky, unseeded Douglas—a first-string quarterback for the 1957 Stanford football team—surprisingly has marched through to the semifinals and today faces the United State's top dog of the Davis Cup team, Barry MacKay.

The other semifinal match, which will be played Saturday, could well be a preview of Davis Cup championship competition. It sends No. 2 ranked Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, 32, the southpaw precisionist who is aiming for his third straight National Clay Courts title, against red-haired Rod Laver, another lefty and head man of the current Australian traveling Davis Cup squad.

Douglas gained the semifinals by trimming U.S. Davis Cupper Chuck McKinley Thursday 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

MacKay's cannonball service blew apart Don Dell 6-4, 6-4, 6-2. Bartzen's placements overwhelmed Jack Forst 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. Laver, displaying tantalizing drop shots along with power, ousted the small Ecuadoran, Miguel Olvera, in three 6-4 sets.

Thomson Given Release By Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles recalled from Miami today West Stock, a right-hand pitcher, and let go Bobby Thomson, who thrilled the baseball world in 1951 with one hit.

Thomson hit a home run in the ninth inning, scoring two New York Giants ahead of him, and won the rubber game with Brooklyn for the National League pennant.

FIGHT RESULTS

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 202¼, New York, Thursday night stopped Jim O'Connell, 182, Steubenville, 4.

Madrid — Fred Galiana, 134½, Spain, outpointed Manola Garcia, 133½, Spain, 12. Galiana retained Spanish lightweight title.

Rickey Continues Drive To Boost New League

NEW YORK (AP) — The Continental League is pushing ahead, determined to gain recognition as a third major baseball league, and the National League has turned down a bid by Madison Square Garden for a New York franchise.

These two developments Thursday could have a far-reaching influence in the fast-changing field of baseball expansion.

The Continental announced it had agreed on a formula for paying indemnities to invaded minor league cities, its most troublesome immediate problem.

Branch Rickey, Continental president, has agreed to meet with the expansion committees of the American and National leagues Aug. 2 in Chicago. Rickey thinks favorable action would permit admission of his league into organized baseball within 30 days.

Rickey announced a formula to pay five invaded America Assn. clubs on the basis of 40 cents for each admission in the year in which major league status is granted.

He said Ed Doherty, American Assn. president, had agreed to consider the plan. The five franchises involved are Denver, Houston, Dallas - Ft. Worth, St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Continental would operate Minneapolis-St. Paul as one franchise.

A similar proposal has been made to the International League from which the Continental expects to take Buffalo and Toronto. The same deal probably will be offered the Southern Assn. for Atlanta. The eighth member of the Continental is New York, ruled an "open city" by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Rickey said his league had drafted a formal application that will show full compliance with all the rules (10 points) set down by organized baseball.

The Garden offer for a National League franchise came as a surprise.

Admiral John E. Bergen, chairman of Graham - Page Corp. which owns the Garden, wired President Warren Giles of the National League that formal application will be made for a franchise. He said "preliminary investigation indicates that we can conclude satisfactory arrangements for leasing of playing facilities at Yankee Stadium or the proposed new City Stadium."

Giles quickly threw cold water on the Garden's plans. "I told him (Adm. Bergen) I appreciate their interest in the National League," said Giles. "But we are not in a position to discuss with anyone at this time any application for a franchise in the National League."

Men's AAU Swim Meet Due Today

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The nation's top swimmers and divers are among the 350 contestants in the three-day National AAU men's outdoor championships which start at Scott Park Pool today with the 3-meter diving competition.

Coaches are hopeful the men will display the speed and form shown by the women in their outdoor meet at Indianapolis last weekend, when they broke three world records and bettered 19 American and AAU marks.

Coach Bob Kiphuth of the New Haven Swim Club said the winners here "are likely to be the winners at Detroit," where the Olympic trials will be held Aug. 2-5. He predicted that the United States will make a strong showing in the Olympics because of its great team depth.

Don Harper of Columbus, Ohio, is defending champion in the 3-meter diving event, in which preliminaries were set this morning with the finals scheduled tonight.

The platform diving competition will be held Sunday in Detroit because Scott Park lacks the necessary facilities.

49 Players To Report With Browns Sunday

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will take a squad of 49 players to training camp here Sunday. It is one of the smallest in the team's history and includes 21 players who finished the 1959 season and six players obtained in trades.

The six men picked up in off-season deals are Sam Baker, Len Dawson, Bob Long, John Morrow, Gern Nagler and A. D. Williams.

The others are 22 rookies, not including five players who will appear with the College All-Stars.

Mick Wright Leads Ladies

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The determination of defending Champion Mickey Wright and the red-hot wedge iron of Marilynn Smith were the principal topics of conversation today as the National Women's Open Golf Championship entered its second round.

Miss Wright, a San Diego, Calif., pro trying for an unprecedented third consecutive championship, turned on the steam on the back nine Thursday to take the first-round lead with a one-under-par 71 over the 6,137-yard Worcester Country Club course.

Breaking out of a recent slump, the 25-year-old golfer scored six birdies for her one-stroke lead over Miss Smith.

Only the two leaders were able to match or break par. Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Crystal River, Fla., were two over at 74.

Blue Dan Pulls Upset

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Blue Dan, a 9-1 outsider from the deep South, pulled off an upset victory in the featured pace at Hamilton Raceway Thursday night.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Hal Smith, Pirates, hit two home runs off Dodger pitching in 4-1 victory at Coliseum Thursday night. They were his eighth and ninth of the year, all but three having been hit in Los Angeles.

Pitching — Robin Roberts, Phillies, pitched one-hitter against San Francisco for 35th shutout of career 3-0; allowing only an infield single by Felipe Alou with two out in the fifth.

Palmer Leads Field By 1 Stroke In Akron PGA Tourney

Snead Is 2nd To Arnold's Opening 67

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer headed for an unprecedented triple today as he led the 42nd PGA championship into the second round by a single stroke.

After being forced to birdie the last two holes to win the Masters, and coming from seven strokes off the pace to take the National Open, the Pennsylvania strong boy said: "It's nice to be out in front for once."

The Ligonier lad blazed a 34-33—67 over Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard par-70 layout, with four birdies and a bogey. He nosed out veteran Sam Snead who snared this championship 18 years ago and twice since.

The performances of the two long hitters featured the first day of this extravaganza in which the biggest PGA field in history is playing on the tournament's longest course for the biggest purse before the largest gallery. The first round's paid attendance was 10,225.

The long layout, its narrow fairways bordered by heavy roughs and crossed by streams and ponds, took a heavy talent toll, especially in the ranks of the club professionals for whom the showpiece was fashioned.

Only nine of the top 32 scorers are nontourists, the moneymakers taking command of the first eight places and 15 of the leading 18. Just how many of the teaching pros will be around after today's cut to the low 90—with the cutoff slated at scores near 151—is problematical.

Palmer put together his round early and then let the starting field of 184 fire at his 67. Snead, 48, bothered by a hooking driver, came in late and made the biggest bid. Invited into the press tent for a chat with the scribes, the West Virginia slammer drawled: "Can't do it right now. Have to practice before I cool off."

Joining Palmer and Snead as the only parbreakers were Paul Harney, the slim tourist from Worcester, Mass., and veteran Freddie Haas of New Orleans, each with a 69. Bracketed at par 70 were Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., who tied for the runner-up spot last year; Don Fairfield, 31, of Casey, Ill.; Don January, 30, of Dallas, and sweet-swinging Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif.

Three club pros huddled into a 10-way tie at 71. The top teachers were John O'Donnell of Baltimore, Bob Harris of Winnetka, Ill., and Ed Griffiths, former Ohio Open champion from Youngstown.

The 90 survivors of today's round will be cut to 60 for Sunday's 18-hole dash to the wire. All who complete the 72 holes will get a slice of the $60,000 purse. Last placers are expected to profit by something over $200.

Yankees, Chicago Face Showdown

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first showdown series of the year opens tonight at Yankee Stadium where the New York Yankees, nursing a one-game lead, take on the second-place Chicago White Sox in the first of four games.

It will be White Sox speed and sound pitching against the Yanks' home-run power and wobbly pitching in the series that overshadows other doings in the American League. They will play one game tonight, Saturday afternoon, and two Sunday. The Yanks hold a 7-4 season edge winning the last seven from the Sox.

Most of the league spent Thursday on the road, but Detroit managed to climb into a fifth-place tie with Washington by beating the Senators 9-5 in the only game played. Frank Lary, helped by Dave Sisler, managed to hold enough of an early 7-0 lead to offset Washington's late home run power.

Jim Lemon hit his 22nd and 23rd and Harmon Killebrew his eighth, but the Senators never could catch the Tigers. Rocky Colavito's 20th homer with two on in the fifth inning helped build up Lary's lead.

In the National League, Pittsburgh widened its lead to 1½ games by downing Los Angeles 4-1 on a pair of home runs by Hal Smith, after Milwaukee had lost to St. Louis 9-4, breaking a seven-game winning streak. Robin Roberts of Philadelphia pitched a one-hitter against San Francisco, winning 3-0, and Chicago whipped Cincinnati 8-1.

For the opener at Yankee Stadium, Manager Casey Stengel has Bob Turley, 6-1, ready to oppose Early Wynn.

Manager Al Lopez finally is getting the kind of pitching he thought he had last spring to make a successful defense of the championship. White Sox starters have gone the route in four of their last five games, and the club has won 17 of its last 24. Since the traditional July 4 dividing line, the Sox have climbed from fourth place, six games out, to second, only one off the pace.

Roger Maris continues to stay ahead of Babe Ruth's record home-run pace of 1927 when he hit 60 home runs. Maris has hit 31, putting him 11 games ahead of Ruth. Mickey Mantle is running ahead of last year with 23 to his credit, and Moose Skowron has 16 homers and 64 runs batted in. Maris, of course, tops the league with 76 RBI.

Rochester Pitcher Loses On 4-Hitter

By The Associated Press

There are days when you can't make a nickel. Ask Rochester rookie Bob Sadowski, who shut out Toronto's rumbling Maple Leafs on two hits for nine innings—and then lost a 10-inning four - hitter against the International League leaders.

Steve Demeter slugged a three-run homer in the 10th for a 3-2 victory at Rochester Thursday night. The Red Wings battled back with home runs by Ben Mateosky and Luke Easter, but they weren't enough to bar the Leafs from their seventh straight success.

Buffalo, 13 games back of the Leafs, moved a full game ahead of Richmond in their scrap for second place. The Bisons rapped Montreal 4-3 on Don Landrum's tie-breaking home run. Richmond was walloped 13-4 at Jersey City.

Last place Miami dropped Columbus 1-0 on the six-hit pitching of Herb Moford and the defensive play of center fielder Barry Shetrone—who twice threw out runners at the plate.

Bennie Daniels of Columbus pitched six perfect innings at Miami before Angelo Dagres beat out a bouncer down the first base line leading off the seventh. Dagres went to second on a passed ball, reached third on Sheltron's sacrifice and came in on Dick Brown's one-out single for Daniels' first defeat in five decisions.

Marine Pulls Upset In Net Tournament

CHICAGO (AP) — Jon Douglas, 23, a Marine, has established a beachhead in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament against the big guns of three Davis Cup players.

The stocky, unseeded Douglas—a first-string quarterback for the 1957 Stanford football team—surprisingly has marched through to the semifinals and today faces the United State's top dog of the Davis Cup team, Barry MacKay.

The other semifinal match, which will be played Saturday, could well be a preview of Davis Cup championship competition. It sends No. 2 ranked Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, 32, the southpaw precisionist who is aiming for his third straight National Clay Courts title, against red-haired Rod Laver, another lefty and head man of the current Australian traveling Davis Cup squad.

Douglas gained the semifinals by trimming U.S. Davis Cupper Chuck McKinley Thursday 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

MacKay's cannonball service blew apart Don Dell 6-4, 6-4, 6-2. Bartzen's placements overwhelmed Jack Forst 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. Laver, displaying tantalizing drop shots along with power, ousted the small Ecuadoran, Miguel Olvera, in three 6-4 sets.

Thomson Given Release By Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles recalled from Miami today West Stock, a right-hand pitcher, and let go Bobby Thomson, who thrilled the baseball world in 1951 with one hit.

Thomson hit a home run in the ninth inning, scoring two New York Giants ahead of him, and won the rubber game with Brooklyn for the National League pennant.

FIGHT RESULTS

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 202¼, New York, Thursday night stopped Jim O'Connell, 182, Steubenville, 4.

Madrid — Fred Galiana, 134½, Spain, outpointed Manola Garcia, 133½, Spain, 12. Galiana retained Spanish lightweight title.

Rickey Continues Drive To Boost New League

NEW YORK (AP) — The Continental League is pushing ahead, determined to gain recognition as a third major baseball league, and the National League has turned down a bid by Madison Square Garden for a New York franchise.

These two developments Thursday could have a far-reaching influence in the fast-changing field of baseball expansion.

The Continental announced it had agreed on a formula for paying indemnities to invaded minor league cities, its most troublesome immediate problem.

Branch Rickey, Continental president, has agreed to meet with the expansion committees of the American and National leagues Aug. 2 in Chicago. Rickey thinks favorable action would permit admission of his league into organized baseball within 30 days.

Rickey announced a formula to pay five invaded America Assn. clubs on the basis of 40 cents for each admission in the year in which major league status is granted.

He said Ed Doherty, American Assn. president, had agreed to consider the plan. The five franchises involved are Denver, Houston, Dallas - Ft. Worth, St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Continental would operate Minneapolis-St. Paul as one franchise.

A similar proposal has been made to the International League from which the Continental expects to take Buffalo and Toronto. The same deal probably will be offered the Southern Assn. for Atlanta. The eighth member of the Continental is New York, ruled an "open city" by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Rickey said his league had drafted a formal application that will show full compliance with all the rules (10 points) set down by organized baseball.

The Garden offer for a National League franchise came as a surprise.

Admiral John E. Bergen, chairman of Graham - Page Corp. which owns the Garden, wired President Warren Giles of the National League that formal application will be made for a franchise. He said "preliminary investigation indicates that we can conclude satisfactory arrangements for leasing of playing facilities at Yankee Stadium or the proposed new City Stadium."

Giles quickly threw cold water on the Garden's plans. "I told him (Adm. Bergen) I appreciate their interest in the National League," said Giles. "But we are not in a position to discuss with anyone at this time any application for a franchise in the National League."

Men's AAU Swim Meet Due Today

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The nation's top swimmers and divers are among the 350 contestants in the three-day National AAU men's outdoor championships which start at Scott Park Pool today with the 3-meter diving competition.

Coaches are hopeful the men will display the speed and form shown by the women in their outdoor meet at Indianapolis last weekend, when they broke three world records and bettered 19 American and AAU marks.

Coach Bob Kiphuth of the New Haven Swim Club said the winners here "are likely to be the winners at Detroit," where the Olympic trials will be held Aug. 2-5. He predicted that the United States will make a strong showing in the Olympics because of its great team depth.

Don Harper of Columbus, Ohio, is defending champion in the 3-meter diving event, in which preliminaries were set this morning with the finals scheduled tonight.

The platform diving competition will be held Sunday in Detroit because Scott Park lacks the necessary facilities.

49 Players To Report With Browns Sunday

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will take a squad of 49 players to training camp here Sunday. It is one of the smallest in the team's history and includes 21 players who finished the 1959 season and six players obtained in trades.

The six men picked up in off-season deals are Sam Baker, Len Dawson, Bob Long, John Morrow, Gern Nagler and A. D. Williams.

The others are 22 rookies, not including five players who will appear with the College All-Stars.

Mick Wright Leads Ladies

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The determination of defending Champion Mickey Wright and the red-hot wedge iron of Marilynn Smith were the principal topics of conversation today as the National Women's Open Golf Championship entered its second round.

Miss Wright, a San Diego, Calif., pro trying for an unprecedented third consecutive championship, turned on the steam on the back nine Thursday to take the first-round lead with a one-under-par 71 over the 6,137-yard Worcester Country Club course.

Breaking out of a recent slump, the 25-year-old golfer scored six birdies for her one-stroke lead over Miss Smith.

Only the two leaders were able to match or break par. Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Crystal River, Fla., were two over at 74.

Blue Dan Pulls Upset

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Blue Dan, a 9-1 outsider from the deep South, pulled off an upset victory in the featured pace at Hamilton Raceway Thursday night.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Hal Smith, Pirates, hit two home runs off Dodger pitching in 4-1 victory at Coliseum Thursday night. They were his eighth and ninth of the year, all but three having been hit in Los Angeles.

Pitching — Robin Roberts, Phillies, pitched one-hitter against San Francisco for 35th shutout of career 3-0; allowing only an infield single by Felipe Alou with two out in the fifth.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Achieve Your Goal

Are you getting what you want from life? This is a good check-up question everyone should ask himself once in awhile. A lot of people would have to answer no because, sadly enough, they are not really living — they are just drifting. One reason many people do not get what they want is simply that they do not know what they want. A young man of 21 came to me for advice. He bluntly asked, "How can I get somewhere and be somebody? Questioning him, I found he had absolutely no idea what he wanted to be or even what kind of job appealed to him the most.

NATURALLY, I told him, "Before you can get anywhere or be anybody you'll have to make up your mind where you want to go and what you want to be. You must have a definite goal. When you decide on your specific objective in life you will be taking the first step on the path to achieving it."

A friend of mine has had a career which strikingly demonstrates the creative power of a clearly defined goal. His parents were poor German immigrants. In his youth, as he describes it, he "didn't have two nickels to rub together." Today he is editor of a very important newspaper. I once asked him, "How did you get to be editor of this paper?"

"It was what I wanted more than anything else in the world," he answered. "As a boy I used to walk past this building. Through a big window I could see the editor sitting at his desk, handling papers. I got to thinking how much a man in his position could affect people's views — what an influence he could be. Then one day I got a picture of myself sitting in his place. I knew that was what I wanted and I just made up my mind to get it. I went to work to make that picture a reality. It was a far-off goal and, believe me, it was hard going all the way, but I never lost sight of it and finally I sat in this chair."

TO LEAD a rewarding life it is most important to picture clearly in mind what you want and be willing to work for it. In addition you must have what it takes to overcome the failure elements that hamper personality.

All of us have those failure elements —crucial weaknesses of one kind or another. And we cannot always rid of them solely by our own unaided efforts — we need God's help.

I know a man whose high percentage of failure elements once cost him his job, his home, reputation and friends. Everything he had went down the drain. He had taken to heavy drinking and had let it drag him down until he was actually a common drunk.

Having used up all his money, he borrowed from relatives and friends. When finally there was no one he could "touch" again, he left town and wandered aimlessly from place to place, sometimes even sleeping in haystacks and begging meals at back doors. In this depressing fashion he drifted several thousand miles from home.

One day to pass the time he read some religious literature given him by a kindly old lady whom he had asked for food. Then one of those almost incredible miracles took place.

The power of God's word penetrated his consciousness and started working in him. He began to pray for the first time in years. He hardly realized what was happening to him; but later events demonstrated that an amazing change had occurred. The old failure elements were done.

ON HIS way into town he saw a nice girl sweeping a walk. He went up to her and asked directions. As the girl spoke to him, he looked into her eyes. Then on his way down the street he said a surprising thing to himself, "I am going to make myself worthy to marry that girl."

He got a job in that town, handled it well and began to make his way back up the ladder. Believe it or not, he actually did marry that girl. And as the years passed he became a respected citizen of his community.

Whatever happened to this man is hard to describe. A new force entered his mind. He found new strength and sense of direction. He acquired what it takes to remove oneself from failure to achievement.

Plato once said, "Take charge of your lives; you can do with them what you will." That great truth is worth committing to memory. And one way to take charge of your life is to set yourself a goal, picture it, pinpoint it and steer your course by it. At the same time eliminate the failure elements from yourself. These steps, taken together, can form with God's help a real program for getting what you want.

Here Are Ways To Cure Child's Speech Defect

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

What is a speech defect? And when is it serious?

No baby speaks clearly, and we certainly do not consider the early mispronounciations a defect. But by the age of 5 a child should:

Speak distinctly.

Make his meaning clear.

Speak with a voice that is pleasant to hear.

If your child falls short of this standard he may have a speech defect that needs attention.

But the things that might be wrong are many. Some are simple and of no great significance, some are more serious. But even the simple ones are better off treated.

It's hard on anyone to go through life not quite able to get his meaning clearly across to others. Even if the defect is not that serious an unpleasant peculiarity in speech can be a handicap. Treatment of speech defects is more successful in childhood. Grown people have to work harder to overcome their speech peculiarities.

—:—

ONLY ABOUT 20 per cent of all speech defects are due to faulty structure in the child. Such conditions as cleft palate and cerebral palsy and loss of hearing do interfere with normal speech, but the vast number of speech defects grow out of the things that happen in the life of the child, things that influence his personality and the way he looks and thinks about the world in which he lives.

The most common defect among young children is faulty articulation, the child does not use his tongue, lips and jaw to the best advantage.

No child is born with the ability to start right off talking correctly. All children mispronounce many words, but as they get older and hear correct speech they gradually improve their own diction. It is normal for a 2-year-old to "frow" a ball but a 5-year-old should "throw" it. Two-year-olds have "muvvers," but 5-year-olds should have "mothers."

"R" is a troublesome sound. Little folks often eat "wolls" instead of "rolls" and when they ask for "lam" instead of "ham" it causes confusion.

When "s" is the cause of trouble we call it lisping. Most all little children love a "fwing" instead of a "swing". Sometimes "s" is whistled through the lips and the child sounds like a radiator expelling steam or the "s" is formed between the upper and lower teeth and we get "loth" instead of "loss".

All children do these things. Why do some outgrow them and some hang on to their baby speech?

MAYBE THE child's speech is poor because he has not had a good example to follow, either because you don't talk to him enough.

Maybe you have repeated to him his own cute little baby sayings until he gets the idea that's the way it should be. Or maybe you pay too much attention to his speech and are forever nagging him to speak clearly. Finally he becomes balky and just won't try any more.

You never do a child a service to harp on his defects. It's better to just ignore his mistakes but always say the words correctly yourself. After a while he picks up the right way.

But if at 5 your child hasn't outgrown his baby talk you will probably need some help in correcting his speech.

It would be wise to get in touch with a good speech therapist who can analyze your youngster's difficulty and help him overcome them. Ask your doctor to recommend a speech therapist.

If you have trouble locating one, write to the American Speech and Hearing Assn., Wayne University, Detroit, Mich. They will send you a list of qualified therapists in your area.

Sea-Going Scriptures Cast By Alabama Bottle Evangelist

PIEDMONT, Ala. (AP) — Though some might cast bread upon the waters, the Rev. Jewel Pierce believes in tossing in a bottle now and then.

"The bottle and water preacher" of Piedmont is known in at least 29 states and eight foreign countries. His reputation has spread by a unique device, since he seldom leaves this north Alabama community.

His contact with the world is by means of bits of scripture which he seals in bottles and drops into the Coosa River.

And thus, his messages are sent down the Coosa, into the Alabama River, into the Mobile River, drifting out into Mobile Bay and thence into the Gulf of Mexico where they sometimes are caught up by the Gulf Stream and swept to far off places.

Although Pierce is not an ordained minister, he enjoys the title because of his work as Sunday school evangelist at the Congregational Methodist Church in Piedmont.

As an evangelist of sorts, he has carried his missionary word far and wide. He estimates he has set 27,800 scripture messages adrift in 20 years. And he has received 5,640 replies.

Pierce got the idea as he crossed the Coosa River once, and pondered how he might cast bread upon the water so that someone might be helped. The bottles flashed into his mind and he has been collecting them and stuffing them with Scriptures ever since.

He estimates that he has spent about $780 for cork and literature and for postage stamps to reply to answers he receives from his messages.

Pierce says he gets an occasional small contribution, but most of his expenses have been paid from his own small income.

The largest item, the bottles, he gets free. He visits the Piedmont city dump regularly and anywhere else he can find bottles. He prefers whisky bottles because he believes they were used for the wrong purpose in the first place.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Achieve Your Goal

Are you getting what you want from life? This is a good check-up question everyone should ask himself once in awhile. A lot of people would have to answer no because, sadly enough, they are not really living — they are just drifting. One reason many people do not get what they want is simply that they do not know what they want. A young man of 21 came to me for advice. He bluntly asked, "How can I get somewhere and be somebody? Questioning him, I found he had absolutely no idea what he wanted to be or even what kind of job appealed to him the most.

NATURALLY, I told him, "Before you can get anywhere or be anybody you'll have to make up your mind where you want to go and what you want to be. You must have a definite goal. When you decide on your specific objective in life you will be taking the first step on the path to achieving it."

A friend of mine has had a career which strikingly demonstrates the creative power of a clearly defined goal. His parents were poor German immigrants. In his youth, as he describes it, he "didn't have two nickels to rub together." Today he is editor of a very important newspaper. I once asked him, "How did you get to be editor of this paper?"

"It was what I wanted more than anything else in the world," he answered. "As a boy I used to walk past this building. Through a big window I could see the editor sitting at his desk, handling papers. I got to thinking how much a man in his position could affect people's views — what an influence he could be. Then one day I got a picture of myself sitting in his place. I knew that was what I wanted and I just made up my mind to get it. I went to work to make that picture a reality. It was a far-off goal and, believe me, it was hard going all the way, but I never lost sight of it and finally I sat in this chair."

TO LEAD a rewarding life it is most important to picture clearly in mind what you want and be willing to work for it. In addition you must have what it takes to overcome the failure elements that hamper personality.

All of us have those failure elements —crucial weaknesses of one kind or another. And we cannot always rid of them solely by our own unaided efforts — we need God's help.

I know a man whose high percentage of failure elements once cost him his job, his home, reputation and friends. Everything he had went down the drain. He had taken to heavy drinking and had let it drag him down until he was actually a common drunk.

Having used up all his money, he borrowed from relatives and friends. When finally there was no one he could "touch" again, he left town and wandered aimlessly from place to place, sometimes even sleeping in haystacks and begging meals at back doors. In this depressing fashion he drifted several thousand miles from home.

One day to pass the time he read some religious literature given him by a kindly old lady whom he had asked for food. Then one of those almost incredible miracles took place.

The power of God's word penetrated his consciousness and started working in him. He began to pray for the first time in years. He hardly realized what was happening to him; but later events demonstrated that an amazing change had occurred. The old failure elements were done.

ON HIS way into town he saw a nice girl sweeping a walk. He went up to her and asked directions. As the girl spoke to him, he looked into her eyes. Then on his way down the street he said a surprising thing to himself, "I am going to make myself worthy to marry that girl."

He got a job in that town, handled it well and began to make his way back up the ladder. Believe it or not, he actually did marry that girl. And as the years passed he became a respected citizen of his community.

Whatever happened to this man is hard to describe. A new force entered his mind. He found new strength and sense of direction. He acquired what it takes to remove oneself from failure to achievement.

Plato once said, "Take charge of your lives; you can do with them what you will." That great truth is worth committing to memory. And one way to take charge of your life is to set yourself a goal, picture it, pinpoint it and steer your course by it. At the same time eliminate the failure elements from yourself. These steps, taken together, can form with God's help a real program for getting what you want.

Thompson, William Martin, post Americanism officer, Dale Allison and Albert Ferguson, cubmaster of the pack sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Washington School. Here Are Ways To Cure Child's Speech Defect

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

What is a speech defect? And when is it serious?

No baby speaks clearly, and we certainly do not consider the early mispronounciations a defect. But by the age of 5 a child should:

Speak distinctly.

Make his meaning clear.

Speak with a voice that is pleasant to hear.

If your child falls short of this standard he may have a speech defect that needs attention.

But the things that might be wrong are many. Some are simple and of no great significance, some are more serious. But even the simple ones are better off treated.

It's hard on anyone to go through life not quite able to get his meaning clearly across to others. Even if the defect is not that serious an unpleasant peculiarity in speech can be a handicap. Treatment of speech defects is more successful in childhood. Grown people have to work harder to overcome their speech peculiarities.

—:—

ONLY ABOUT 20 per cent of all speech defects are due to faulty structure in the child. Such conditions as cleft palate and cerebral palsy and loss of hearing do interfere with normal speech, but the vast number of speech defects grow out of the things that happen in the life of the child, things that influence his personality and the way he looks and thinks about the world in which he lives.

The most common defect among young children is faulty articulation, the child does not use his tongue, lips and jaw to the best advantage.

No child is born with the ability to start right off talking correctly. All children mispronounce many words, but as they get older and hear correct speech they gradually improve their own diction. It is normal for a 2-year-old to "frow" a ball but a 5-year-old should "throw" it. Two-year-olds have "muvvers," but 5-year-olds should have "mothers."

"R" is a troublesome sound. Little folks often eat "wolls" instead of "rolls" and when they ask for "lam" instead of "ham" it causes confusion.

When "s" is the cause of trouble we call it lisping. Most all little children love a "fwing" instead of a "swing". Sometimes "s" is whistled through the lips and the child sounds like a radiator expelling steam or the "s" is formed between the upper and lower teeth and we get "loth" instead of "loss".

All children do these things. Why do some outgrow them and some hang on to their baby speech?

MAYBE THE child's speech is poor because he has not had a good example to follow, either because you don't talk to him enough.

Maybe you have repeated to him his own cute little baby sayings until he gets the idea that's the way it should be. Or maybe you pay too much attention to his speech and are forever nagging him to speak clearly. Finally he becomes balky and just won't try any more.

You never do a child a service to harp on his defects. It's better to just ignore his mistakes but always say the words correctly yourself. After a while he picks up the right way.

But if at 5 your child hasn't outgrown his baby talk you will probably need some help in correcting his speech.

It would be wise to get in touch with a good speech therapist who can analyze your youngster's difficulty and help him overcome them. Ask your doctor to recommend a speech therapist.

If you have trouble locating one, write to the American Speech and Hearing Assn., Wayne University, Detroit, Mich. They will send you a list of qualified therapists in your area.

Miss Pastetenbecker, a German girl who entered the contest, replied she measured 86-57-88.

Briscoe finally discovered she was measuring in centimeters. In inches that works out to 34-22-35.

Train Rams Trucker's Rig

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Damage estimated at $29,000 was caused today when a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train crashed into a big truck-trailer eight miles east of here.

The truck was demolished, the locomotive and five cars left the track but no one was injured.

Passengers on the train, some of whom were asleep when the crash came, were transferred to Greyhound buses to continue their journey.

Railroad officials estimated damage to the engine and cars at $10,000 and loss to the truck and its cargo, 19,000 pounds of magnesium, was estimated at $19,000.

Arthur Henderhan, 33, of Marietta, driver for the Merchants Delivery of Marietta, was en route to Middletown with the magnesium, as part of a convoy. He had halted his truck on U.S. 50 to awaken some other drivers who were taking a nap. The brakes on his truck failed and the rig swung across the highway, over an embankment onto the railroad tracks.

The driver made a futile effort to get the truck off the tracks but the passenger train struck and demolished it, throwing the engine and cars off the track.

There was extensive damage to the locomotive and some of the cars. Emmitt Johnson was the engineer and Hugh Breekingham was the conductor. Both live in Chillicothe.

A wrecking crew was on the scene this morning clearing the track and moving the engine and cars back to the rails.

Taft Republicans Oppose Lodge As 'Veep' Nominee

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO (AP) — Conservative Republicans raised echoes of the 1952 Taft-Eisenhower battle today in opposition to the possible choice of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. as the GOP vice presidential candidate.

Lodge, now serving as United Nations ambassador, is reported high up on a brief personal list from which Vice President Richard M. Nixon plans to choose his running mate, provided all goes well and Nixon gets the presidential nomination he expects.

Among the practical politicians gathering here for next week's convention there is no shadow of a doubt that once Nixon has named his man the delegates in the end will accept him. But many thought there still is time left to influence Nixon's judgment.

In this connection, Rep. B. Carroll Reece, Tennessee state chairman, said he has found strong opposition among backers of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio to having Lodge on the ticket.

Reece said the Taft men, who still form a considerable wing of the party, have tabbed Lodge as the originator of the Texas delegate "steal" charges that were used by President Eisenhower's associates in the 1952 convention maneuvering.

Ralph F. Gates, Indiana national committeeman, said he has been told that the Republican ticket might lose some important midland newspaper support if Lodge is named. He said this was based on opposition to Lodge's so-called internationalist views.

John T. Diederich, Kentucky committeeman, is booming homestater Sen. Thruston B. Morton, the GOP national chairman, for second place on the ticket. Diederich said he had encountered opposition to Lodge from some Taft Republicans.

Some Midwesterners are opposing the choice of either Lodge or Morton. They contend the election may turn on how the midland states go, and they want one of their own on the ticket with Nixon.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois told a news conference Thursday he thinks there ought to be an open-convention choice of Nixon's running mate. Stratton pushed for a Middle Western candidate for second place.

Among others he named Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, House GOP Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton, Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan, and Maurice Stans, director of the budget and a Chicagoan.

Friends of Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) are steaming up sentiment for him for the vice presidential nomination. Goldwater has about 30 convention votes pledged to him for top place on the ticket but says he won't get either nomination.

A Republican strategist said, however, that if the choice were left to the convention delegates, he believes the conservative Arizona senator would give any of the other aspirants a run for his money.

Goldwater's name was one of those included on a list from which Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said he believes the nominee will come.

Klein said the Nixon headquarters had received about 200 telegrams plugging potential vice presidential candidates. He said Morton led in the number of supporters. He added that Lodge and Gov. Nelson A. Rockfeller of New York had about equal backing.

Others mentioned by Klein include Seaton, Ford, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Sens. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

This was about the first time that Dewey's name had popped up in speculation which centered on what some Republicans contend is a need to have a ticket that will appeal to New York voters.
